NORWAY VICINITY

Robert B. Dow's buildings have been painted, and composition shingles and metal put on the roof.

The Maine Telephone and Telegraph Co. is reblocking the 'phone system in the village, with a large crew on the job.

Mrs. Harley D. True and Miss Kathryn E. Richardson returned from Boston, Sunday night, after a visit with relatives in Newton Center, Mass.

The Maine and Massachusetts W. C. T. U. will go on the air from WNAC, Boston, and WLBZ, Bangor, Wednesday, April 16th, from 5:45 to 6 p. m.

Harl True's orchestra has been hired to play for the Greenwood dances same as last season. Saturday night, April 12, they play for a dance at North Lovell.

Norway Grange will meet Saturday afternoon, opening at 1:30 o'clock. Following business meeting, there will be a debate in charge of Edward H. Brown, and a special feature—a harmonica contest, with a prize awarded to the best player as decided by a judge.

The date of the card party under the auspices of the American Legion Auxiliary at Legion Hall has been set forward to April 22. The change was made so as not to conflict with an entertainment on April 15, the date announced last week for the evening with cards.

The Daughters of Union Veterans will hold regular meeting Friday night at 7:30 o'clock, and the work will be exemplified. Officers will wear white. Following the business meeting, a buffet lunch will be served, with Mrs. Elizabeth Getchell as chairman of the committee. Her assistants will be the F's and G's. Mrs. Fannie Frost, Mrs. Nina Felt, Mrs. Ethel French, Mrs. Ida Gammon and Miss Gertrude George.

Lewis I. Gilbert reached his 73rd birthday, Tuesday and the event was observed with a dinner prepared by his wife. Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Wiley were the invited guests. Mr. Gilbert received several gifts from friends and relatives. The day also was the 42nd anniversary of Mr. Gilbert's third degree in Oxford Lodge, F. & A. M. The late George W. Holmes was the Worthy Master. Some years ago Mr. Gilbert was initiated into the mysteries of the 32nd degree.

Roberta Louise Hunt observed her fifth birthday, Wednesday, at Lone Pine cottage on Pike Hill. In honor of the occasion she entertained a few of her young friends, Richard and Leon Schenk, Miriam Corbett and her sister, Ivalea Hunt. She was remembered with gifts. Refreshments consisting of two birthday cakes, ice cream and lemonade were served. Mrs. Robert Schenk and Mrs. Corbett assisted in entertaining the little folks.

Norway Grange will hold an entertainment and dance, Friday night, at the Grange Hall, the sixth in the popular series that have been enjoyed by a large patronage during the winter and spring. There will be an excellent program of music and readings and also two or three short plays or vaudeville skits. Music for the dance following will be furnished by a four piece orchestra with Miss Marjorie Judkins director. The entertainment committee includes Miss Marjorie Judkins and Verne Knightly. Refreshments will be served at intermission by the lady officers, Mrs. Ada Cox, Mrs. Delia Schenk and Mrs. Marion Holt. These will include frankforts, ice cream and cold drinks.

Mount Hope Rebekah Lodge held a largely attended meeting, Friday evening with several visitors present. The report from the Rebekah Fair, held the past week, was very gratifying as the net proceeds amounted to $165.78 It was voted to purchase some dishes that are needed for the dining room, with a portion of the money. After the business meeting, the "Brothers" took charge of affairs and presented a pleasing program of orchestral selections, vocal solos by Clyde Corey and Elon L. Brown and a historical sketch of the lodge, from the time of its inception to the present day, by Mrs. Alice R. Danforth, who closed with a genealogical sketch, using a clever play of the members' names. As the lodge will celebrate its 35th birthday, April 11, the history at this time was very appropriate. The material for the new robes has been received and work will be done on them right away that they may be ready for work at the next meeting, April 18. At this time, there will be a chafing dish lunch after the work, and instead of soliciting cooking from the members, each will be assessed a small sum to pay for the materials. The committee in charge includes Miss Marian Downing, Mrs. Ethelyn Lapham, Miss Hazel Bicknell, Mrs. Winona Fletcher, Miss Ella Clark, Mrs. Adeline Klain, Mrs. Marguerite McIntire, Miss Helen Richardson, Mrs. Doris Suell, Mrs. Frances Twitchell, Miss Marion Welch.

Donald B. Partridge is officially a candidate in the June primaries for Republican Congressman from the second district. Mr. Partridge filed his papers with the Secretary of State on Wednesday. The petition carried the signature of approximately 1,000 names.

Wedding

Hill-Ryder

The Methodist parsonage was the scene of a quiet and pretty wedding last Saturday evening, April 5. Roscoe L. Hill of Limerick and Miss Hazel E. Ryder of South Paris were united in holy matrimony.

The double ring service was used by Pastor Singleton. The young people were accompanied by relatives and a friend.

POOL TOURNAMENT ON EDGE

The straight pool tournament conducted by Lewis I. Gilbert at the Masonic Club is going strong with intense interest along the whole line.

Twenty-eight shooters were entered and paired by drawing names for the first round. This has been completed and many of the games brought out clever cue work, both from the winners and losers. Points for game was optional with each pair with fifty the popular choice.

The following scores were made on the first run:

Harry Kimball	100	Roy Fletcher	72
Harry Luck	100	Hugh Pendexter	86
P. Y. Fogg	100	Homer Aldrich	99
Jack Bowser	50	Chas. F. Cummings	39
J. G. Walker	50	Knox Bickford	34
Elmer Aldrich	50	Geo. L. Curtis	45
H. H. Hosmer	50	S. J. Cummings	48
Dr. D. M. Stewart	50	Philip Wight	16
R. H. Eastman	50	R. B. Dow	16
Urshal Gammon	50	Homer Luck	23
E. O. Murch	50	H. B. Young	24
F. L. Snow	50	Jack Burgess	38
Stanley True	50	W. W. Chute	45
R. Meserve	50	Seth L. Chipman	41

Winners of this session went into a second drawing and paired as follows:

F. L. Snow and Elmer Aldrich
Jack Bowser and P. Y. Fogg (withdrawn)
H. H. Hosmer and E. O. Murch
Stanley True and Urshal Gammon
R. Meserve and J. G. Walker
Harry Kimball and R. H. Eastman
Dr. D. M. Stewart and Harry Luck

Successful players in this match will again be paired and the elimination continue until the last pair settle the friendly argument about who's who on the pool table. Mr. Gilbert expects to announce the champion in the next paper.

Help Mellie Dunham Rebuild Home

Fire Destroyed the Old Home Last Month

Here's a Worthy Opportunity for Mellie's Friends to Express Their Friendship by Enlarging the Mellie Dunham Building Fund

Mellie and "Gram" Dunham lost their home buildings by fire during a gale early in the morning of March 22. Scarcely anything was saved and the famous couple had a narrow escape with their lives. Several thousand dollars will represent the financial loss which it might be possible to recover. But hundreds of priceless souvenirs, antiques, relics and mementoes can never be replaced. All of their household goods and personal effects were consumed, except his fiddle and a few trinkets he grabbed as he fled.

THE SIGN OF THE FIDDLE
Huge Fiddle Presented Mellie by Friends Placed Over the Door at the Old Home. Lost in the Flames.

Not many will ever know the panorama that passed before Mellie's mental vision as he watched the flames devour his home that morning. His parents lived there years before he was born and in one particular chamber he was ushered into th world seventy-seven years ago. Happy days of youth were spent there.

Fifty-five years ago Mellie took his bride to the ancestral home where they have ever since shared together the joys and sorrows, and made the best of everything that came daily into their lives.

The firelight picture of the pathetic little man standing in the snow without protection from the high wind, and powerless to save his cherished possessions, is a subject for an artist's canvas.

The real stuff that makes heroes has come to the surface. Mellie and his wife are not spending time in useless complaints while laying everything at the door of fate. Thankful that they were aroused from slumber in season to escape in safety, they have set their faces toward another beginning and hope to rebuild on the same spot. They have unbounded faith in a Kind Hand that has led them along the broken path all these years. Many of us who magnify trivial complaints and are overcome by them, should absorb a portion of this spirit of optimism and simple faith that reflects only bright hues from our clouds of adversity.

Hosts of friends scattered over the country are sending messages of sympathy and a number have forwarded financial assistance. Mellie and "Gram" won many hearts during their travels on the Keith circuit and subsequent engagements in New England and Florida.

This sincere devotion has crystalized into a movement called "The Mellie Dunham Building Fund", started by Chas. M. Edwards at St. Petersburg, Fla., who sent a check for $25.00 to the Norway Advertiser office. When the plan was talked over with Mellie for his approval, out came this answer, so characteristic of the man, "Tell my friends I am willing such a fund should be started, but I don't want anyone to contribute where it might take the bread and butter from their mouths."

Friends wishing to help this good cause please send their contributions to the Norway Advertiser office. Make checks payable to Mellie Dunham.

Pine Tree League

Assured For Another Year

Another summer of fast town baseball is promised in the continuation of the Pine Tree League. At the annual meeting held at Mechanic Falls Saturday evening, seven of the eight teams on the circuit of last year except Bridgton were represented.

All officers were re-elected without opposition, and on a single ballot. They are as follows:

President—Clifford E. Gove of Lewiston.
Vice President—Harry Delano of Oxford.
Secretary-Treasurer—Robt. B. Dow, Norway.

On call of the president, each representative responded for his team, giving the financial condition and community sentiment. P. H. Nevers for Norway reported the town team made a little money and the home folks were still hot after baseball. They were behind the game whether or not their choice of a six team league went through.

Dr. H. E. Doughty of Oxford said that probably Oxford would need extended privileges again this season for local players were scarce. He hinted Oxford would again be in the ring.

William Kelly of Rumford reported that his town is alive for the league. The grounds are being improved and bleachers erected. No effort has been made to induce new players into town for work in the mills. While it is possible to build up a strong team by importing talent for mill jobs and keep within the league law, he said this method would not be employed for Rumford strived for a club of local players. They would, however, like the privilege of hiring one player.

James Reed of Livermore Falls reported his team and followers all ready to go. He suggested two umpires in every league game. This added burden for the smaller towns might be off-set if each gate turn a percentage into the league, and that the umpires draw their salary each week from the league treasurer.

It was suggested that visiting teams get a percentage and not a flat guarantee as in the past. This plan would help out where the game doesn't pay well.

A. Donald Weston of Mechanic Falls reported favorably and said his team was not suffering for money or players. He added the club might not be so strong as last year because some of the players would not be available.

C. Guy Buck of South Paris said that South Paris would not be courting any favors and believed the situation could be handled without league assistance. He was confident that Paris would again appear in the line-up of clubs.

"Tiby" Holland of Lisbon Falls reported that the Lisbon Falls Lemons went behind on the money question. This statement was a surprise package in the light of the fact that they finished a close second and the town had been considered a good drawing one. "Tiby" figured if any town needed aid, it was Lisbon Falls.

Dr. Orr and Mr. Morrison of Wilton, who attended the meeting as representatives of a team not a member of the league, said they were there to "feel out" the sentiment, should they apply for admission. If the team should be considered, they proposed to use only local men, even if it meant the loss of every game. No action was taken at the meeting.

It was voted to pay the president $25 for expenses last year, which are not provided for in the constitution.

The financial report by treasurer R. B. Dow was accepted. It showed that the league was operated at an average cost of $7.56 per team.

As the meeting, aside from election of officers and reports, was informal, no action was taken on many good suggestions for the betterment of the league. This will be taken up when the new Advisory Committee is appointed by the president. According to the constitution changes in rules and by-laws can be made only by three-quarters vote of the advisory committee.

It was announced the president would receive a salary this year, the amount to be settled by the committee.

TWIN TOWN NATURE CLUB

The Twin Town Nature Club held a very interesting meeting, Monday evening at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Rensel H. Colby, Pine street, South Paris.

The meeting opened with the club collect. The roll call response was Spring birds. An excellent piano solo was given by Miss Barbara Colby, and a vocal duet by the Misses Reta Shaw and Katheryn Green. Mrs. Madge Gray gave a fine talk on the Flower Show, which she attended in Boston, recently.

The arrangement of the show was entirely different than any former displays, with gardens featured as settings for the floral groups. The outstanding garden, to Mrs. Gray, was an old fashioned one, in front of an ancient house that was transplanted from Maine and filled with antique furniture. Mrs. Gray showed cards which brought her subject nearer.

In a "flower masquerade" contest, Mrs. Augusta Bean won. In another contest, guessing the names of birds and flowers from pictures on the walls, Mrs. Bessie Pierce was the winner. All joined in singing "America, the Beautiful" and "Home, Sweet Home".

Several new arrivals among the feathered friends were reported, among the unusual being two wild ducks that have been seen by several members. A social hour followed and dainty refreshments were served.

LEADERSHIP TRAINING SCHOOL

An interdenominational leadership training school will be held in Norway, April 30, May 1, 2, 6 and 7, under the auspices of the Central Oxford County Council of Churches, which includes Norway, South Paris, West Paris, Paris Hill, Oxford, and the churches of the Waterford Larger Parish. Several courses will be available, with instructors from Portland and Boston.

It is the hope of those in charge that there will be a large number who will attend. It is open to everyone and especially to parents, prospective teachers, teachers and officers of church schools. It will be a fully accredited school for those who wish to work for credits and on the other hand there are the audit pupils who are attending to learn but not desirous of taking examinations. A small tuition fee will be charged.

Mrs. William H. D. Smith is ill at her home.

The members of the Washington party returned home Friday night. Miss Ella Clark and several members of the party took the side trip the Sunday they were in Washington, D. C., and they visited Miss Clark's nephew, Albert H. Clark, at Annapolis.

Mrs. Florence H. Bradbury and Mrs. Annie H. Favor entertained their mother, Mrs. Elizabeth M. Hayes, of Oxford, Sunday, in honor of her eighty-fourth birthday. Seventy-five friends called during the afternoon and Mrs. Hayes received many gifts, also cards, letters and flowers. Refreshments were served the guests in the dining room.

George H. Bennett was in Mechanic Falls two days last week, taking measurements, making plans and sketches on the premises and immediate vicinity of Ben Richardson's house. Mr. and Mrs. Richardson's daughter was fatally injured by a truck as she was walking in the road near her home several months ago. An action to recover damages has commenced and it is understood the case will be heard in the Androscoggin Superior Court in May.

The southeast gale that had its beginning on the southern coast, reached a climax in this section between 2 and 3 o'clock Monday morning. A cloud burst hardly could have done better work for an hour or two. The downpour diminished early in the forenoon and drizzled or threatened more rain until mid-afternoon. Brooks overflowed and the meadows from the branch track northward to Pleasant Street were under water. Low land along the Little Androscoggin river was flooded and many highways have suffered from streams washing around culverts. Springs and wells are practically up to normal, it is reported.

High School Notes

Senior Drama—Seniors Entertained—Commercial Club Party

"The Arrival of Kitty," Norway's senior drama, is to be given at the Norway Opera House, Thursday, April 17, at 8:15. Come and laugh at Sam, the negro waiter, and the funny old maid, Aunt Jane. See if you can solve the difficulty of "which is Kitty?" The cast of characters is as follows:

William Winkler .... Robley Morrison
Bobby Baxter .... Buddy Young
Benjamin Moore .... Sterling Nelson
Ting .... Leland Taylor
Jane .... Helen Brett
Aunt Jane .... Jessie Noyes
Suzette .... Enid Dullea
Sam .... Robert Hosmer
Kitty .... Eva Jackson

This play is produced by special arrangement with Walter H. Baker Co., of Boston, Mass. Tickets are being sold by the students. Seats will be checked at Stone's Drug Store, April 14.

The seniors have chosen "Effort brings Success" for their motto and a white rose as the class flower. The president, Robley Morrison, is to be class marshal.

Enid Dullea and Robley Morrison have invited the seniors to a party to be held Friday, April 11, at the Mothers' Club Hall.

This year's prize speaking is to be held April 23rd. Pupils are not required to participate but a good number have turned in their names. We hope to win one of the county prizes and even more this year.

As this is the end of the third ranking period, ranks will come out Monday or Tuesday.

The Commercial Club is having its prom on the 19th of April. The dance programs are on sale now by Donald Green, Arlene Corbett and Arlene Saleeby.

MORE CHICKS AT HIGH SCHOOL

Several hundred chicks picked their way into the world, Wednesday, at Norway High School. This was the second hatch in two incubators operated as a project by the Agricultural Class, under the supervision of the instructor, Edward H. Brown.

Merl Brown secured 150 active White Rock chicks; Philip French had 98 from 140 eggs and Aubrey Moore had but 87 chicks from his contribution of 108 eggs. One other student secured 104 chicks from 150 eggs. Practically all eggs except the Rocks were R. I. Reds with a small sprinkling of bantams and game.

The incubators were set Thursday for the third hatch. Eugene Pride furnished 200 eggs from the Martin Farm in Ontario, Can. White Rocks are expected in due season. Carl Brown set 100 eggs of Mrs. Day's strain of R. I. Reds. Mrs. Charles Chick started 150 eggs of Frank Buck's strain of R. I. Reds and Harry Andrews had 100 Reds, also of the Buck strain. Ernest Watson, one of the first to complete the four years Agricultural course, several years ago, has faith in the department. He furnished 250 R. I. Red eggs and expects a good percentage of hardy chicks.

The various classes in the Agricultural Department are getting read yfor the annual high school contests to be held at the University of Maine on May 12 and 13. The contestants won two cups last year and hope to retain the trophies this year.

Edward H. Brown has been in conference with Herbert S. Hill, state supervisor of Vocational Agricultural Education. The meeting was held at South Paris, April 2.

KIWANIS NEWS

The Norway-Paris Kiwanis Club met Thursday at the I. O. O. F. Hall, South Paris. The guest speaker was Brooks Quimby, who is at the head of the Bates College Debating Department. His reputation as a speaker insures a treat for all that hear him.

Lieutenant Governor B. G. McIntire met with the chairmen of the various local committees last Friday night.

Ralph L. Sturgis has installed considerable equipment in his office at the Chevrolet salesroom on Danforth street. He has about everything necessary for business.

The "Partridge-to-Congress" campaign launched some weeks ago at a get-together in American Legion Hall is boiling hot with the committeemen circularizing the district, laying stress on Oxford County. Windshield stickers and window cards are in use and a constant reminder that Donald B. Partridge of Norway is settling his face towards the goal at Washington, D. C. A unique publicity stunt of some magnitude is soon to appear along the main arteries of travel. Wayfarers speeding in automobiles or tramping alongside oxen will look, read and act. The stunt is to be kept a mystery for the present, but the committee advises all to keep an eye peeled.

Streams were the highest on Monday for many years. Bird Brook was raised two feet in as many hours and overflowed Cottage street at both ends of the iron bridge between the village and Elm Hill. There were no fears about the main street dam this year. The lake has been unusually low, so cared for the flood without much overflow at the dam.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Lebroke entertained at their home, 5 Cummings Place, on Saturday evening in honor of Mrs. Gladys Rich, who observed her birthday on that date. Besides the guest of honor and the host and hostess, those present were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lovejoy, Alton Curtis, Miss Rosamond Dunham, Mrs. Grace Bennett and Mrs. Sadie Lapham.

Obituary

Mrs. Ruth Elliott Walton

Mrs. Ruth Elliott Walton passed away Tuesday afternoon, April 8, at 6:20, at the home of her parents, at North Waterford, where she had been stopping since Christmas.

Mrs. Walton was born in Albany, Sept. 28, 1896, the daughter of Wallace and Grace Bicknell Elliott. She lived in Albany seven years, then the family moved to North Waterford and she made her home there thirteen years. She attended the Waterford schools, was a graduate of Gould Academy, also attended several sessions of summer school. She was a very successful teacher, teaching at Waterford for one year, and thirteen years in the Norway schools, first at Norway Lake and later in the Primary school at the village, resigning at the end of the Fall term of the present school year. She attended the Congregational Church and was a member of the Rebekah Lodge and Woman's Relief Corps.

On December 24, 1926, she was united in marriage with Leo V. Walton of South Paris, and they made their home in Norway. She is survived by her husband, a five days old infant daughter, Anita Pauline, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Elliott, one sister, Maxine Elliott, of North Waterford; her grandfather, Maurice Bicknell, of East Stoneham, and an aunt, Mrs. Lillian Leadbetter of Swampscott, Mass.

The funeral services will be held at No. Waterford, Friday, April 11, at 2 p. m., the Rev. B. F. Wentworth officiating, and burial will be in Hillside Cemetery, East Stoneham. The bearers will be Earl Libby, Eugene Lovejoy, Fred Hazelton and Charles Demerritt.

Perley C. Snow

Perley C. Snow of Norway passed away early Sunday evening, April 6, at the Eye and Ear Infirmary at Portland, following a critical surgical operation on Friday. He had been ill at his home only a few days before his removal to the hospital. His age was 29 years.

Mr. Snow was born in Norway, Nov. 21, 1900, the son of Mrs. Agnes Snow Currier and the late Harvey Snow. He attended the Norway schools and was graduated at the high school in the class of 1920.

On Oct. 4, 1926, he married Miss Vera I. Smith of Norway, who survives him. He worked in the shoe factory for several years and was foreman in the stitching room at the Norway Shoe Co. at the time of his illness.

The deceased was a member of Norway Lodge, No. 16, I. O. O. F.

Besides his wife he is survived by a daughter, Virginia, two years old; his mother, three brothers, Roy and Robert Snow of Norway and Thomas Winfield Snow of Bristol, Conn.; two sisters, Mrs. Nellie Pratt of Norway, and Mrs. Carl Robinson of South Paris. There are nephews and nieces and other relatives.

The funeral was held at his late residence on Deering street, Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock attended by Rev. Raymond Morgan of the Congregational church. The bearers were from Norway Lodge and interment at Norway Pine Grove cemetery.

Company C Notes

Inspection—Soldiers Win Rifle Match

Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock was the zero hour for Company C. A large percentage of the full strength assembled, in spite of unfavorable odds, and put in a busy evening before Major Allen S. Boyd, U. S. Inf., inspecting officer; Major Daniel S. Dexter, Lewiston, and a crowded balcony of spectators. The personnel of the company went briskly through their various drills, formations and problems in a satisfactory manner. Some of those included were first aid to the injured, artificial respiration, bayonet practice, riot duty, school of the squad, musketry problems, rifle marksmanship and guard duty. This was the first official appearance of the new uniforms and they made a favorable impression.

Small boys thrilled at the bugle calls and gazed with hero-worship at the slim, straight youths in olive drab, as they marched around the floor. Even the rookies came in for their share of openmouthed awe. With an able skipper like Capt. Twitchell at the helm, it is a safe bet that C Company will come through with colors flying at the Camp Devens encampment.

The five men representing Co. C went over the top to victory at K. P. Hall, Saturday night. It was the rubber of a three match series, with a team captained by George Tubbs. The Knights of Pythias team was composed of sportsmen locally prominent and usually credited with the mythical eagle eye. Youth persevered with the narrow margin of nine points. Some of the company men have held the limelight before at the annual State shoots The positions used are off-hand, sitting, kneeling and prone. Twenty-five shots are fired under each. The score was:

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS NOTES

Pennesseewassee Lodge, K. of P., will confer the rank of Page on Thursday evening, April 10. Next week the rank of Esquire will be worked.

The K. P. rifle team lost the rubber match to Co. C, 103 Infantry, by six points. Both outfits played on the bull's eye and the winner was not picked until the last shot.

Another private dance will be held in the hall, April 18. Probably this will be the last for the season. The dances held during the winter have been a social success and brought together old timers and the new members.

There will be a stated communication of Oxford Lodge, No. 18, F. & A. M., on Friday evening, April 11th.

Extensive repairs have been made on the Giles George house on Green street since the fire that destroyed most of the roof. A second story has been added and numerous changes made in rooms on the first floor and the family have moved back.

Norway Lodge, No. 16, I. O. O. F., will attend church, May 4th, at the Norway Methodist church. The order has also extended invitations to the Odd Fellows, Rebekahs and Cantons of South Paris to join with them in attending these services.

Mrs. Mabel Groves of Gardner, Mass., after spending the winter with her sister, Mrs. Alice R. Danforth, is visiting through April with Harlan Brown's family, at Norway Center, and her niece, Mrs. A. L. Wyman and family, at Noble's Corner.

Norway Church Items

Universalist

The Sewing Circle will meet Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Stephen B. Cummings, and there will be work for all. A social hour will be in order along with the work.

The Ladies' Circle is sponsoring a fine entertainment, which will take place Tuesday evening, April 22. Supper will be served at the usual hour. The entertainment will be a lecture by Miss Lottie Tillotson, the Hawaiian entertainer, who has a most pleasing manner of telling her story of those charming Islands in the middle of the Pacific. She will appear in costume and her lecture is well worth hearing. Miss Tillotson talks in an easy, interesting conversation style, that makes her audience forget it is being entertained. Her word pictures are vivid and she holds her audience from the start to the finish.

"Our Church" will be the subject of Rev. P. A. Allen, Jr.'s sermon at the 10 o'clock service, Sunday morning. The choir will render appropriate music for Palm Sunday.

The Y. P. C. U. will meet at 6 o'clock in the evening. Paul Brown's side is ahead on the contest.

The annual Easter Communion, Church roll call and reception of members will be held Maundy Thursday evening, April 17, a 7:30 o'clock. Any who wish to unite for the day, which may necessispeak with Mr. Allen.

Young People's Meeting

Gathering Held at South Paris Tuesday Evening—Plans for Young People's Council

The young people of the churches of Norway, Paris, Oxford, and vicinity, met at the South Paris Baptist church, Tuesday evening, April 8th. A program of music by the South Paris high school orchestra and group singing led by Reta Shaw, was followed by an address by Capt Laughton, field secretary of the Maine Council of Religious Education, stressing the necessity of "grit and stamina" in order to develop character. Following this program a delegation from each church remained to hear Capt. Laughton lay out plans for the organization of young peoples' Council to be made up of the youth of the twenty-five churches comprising the Central Oxford County Council of Churches of Norway, Paris, Oxford, Waterford and vicinity.

Four of the most active and progressive members of each of the societies or young peoples' classes, who are keenly interested in young peoples' church work and have a definite Christian vision, should be chosen as soon as possible. The names of these four representatives are to be handed to the respective pastors or sent to Mrs. Eva Ordway, South Paris, chairman of the special committee on young peoples' work. These representatives will be invited to meet in some central place soon, and elect temporary officers as follows: a president, four vice presidents to head the important committees, a secretary, a treasurer and two pastor-advisors.

The final step in the organization, as outlined by Capt. Laughton, will be the holding of a mass meeting of all church youth in the vicinity. At this meeting permanent officers will be elected.

Considerable interest was manifested by the young people in the proposed organization. One young person was heard to say, 'This will work out to be a wonderful organization if we will have the grit and stamina to make it work''. Several remarked that it is just what is needed to bring the several societies together and make them much more effective.

SOUTH PARIS NEWS

Paris Grange

Paris Grange held an all day meeting Saturday, April 5th, with a good attendance. Four were received by ballot. The first and second degrees will be conferred at the next meeting, April 19th. The Brothers had charge of the dining room and the tables were bountifully spread for about 125. Bro. A. B. Talbot was presented with a cake and custard pie, it being the 71st anniversary of his birth. Sister S. E. Jackson recited an anniversary poem of her own composing.

After dinner, the Grange resumed work in open session with singing of several community songs. Sister Jackson was ready with another original poem which she read for the benefit of Bro. Talbot when another cake was given to him:

BIRTHDAYS 1859-1930

Another year's time has again rolled on;
Spring time is here, old winter has gone.
And now Old Sol is climbing the sky,
Bringing summer days nigh and more nigh,
When the songs of birds from sweet tuneful throat,
With fragrance of flowers on the breezes will float,
Driving gloom from the heart that is weary and sad,
Making Earth's children cheery and glad.
Now birthdays come mostly once in a year,
And both April 5th and Arthur are here;
For Old Father Time he never gets slack
And comes just to show he is still on your track,
Bringing a bagful of wrinkles and pain
And you almost wish he'd ne'er come again.
But when you think of the cake and all that,
You quickly doff to the old fellow your hat,
And bowing low in your most dignified way,
You ask will he kindly not hurry the day,
And ever be thoughtful, good and kind
And leave all his wrinkles and aches behind;
For you are growing old and work every day
To drive the Black Wolf from your door-step away.
—S. E. J.

It is sometimes claimed that lightning conductors on farm buildings "draw lightning" and are therefore undesirable, but the U. S. Weather Bureau says that rodded buildings are less likely to be damaged by lightning than unrodded ones. Lightning near a rodded building is usually diverted to the conductors and passes to the ground without harming the building, whereas a stroke on an unrodded building generally causes damage.

BATES—WEST PARIS

Inman Place Damaged by Water—Waterhouses Returned from California—Annual Meeting Held—W. C. T. U. Officers.

The heavy rain, Sunday night and early morning wrought havoc with the little brook on High Street. It overflowed all its confines and came rushing down the road and over the lawns and through the cellar of Walter Inman's house, purchased last year of Mrs. Agnes Pratt, filling it with sand, weakening the foundation in two places and tearing out a big hole in the terrace, gullying the road and making it impassable across the steep part above the bridge, on its way to the river. The worst washout known at this place for more than thirty years. Tuesday morning, work begun filling in the worst place, just above the bridge, so that teams and autos could pass with care. It will be several weeks and a good lot of expense before all the damage is repaired.

The Parent-Teacher Association will be held April 14, and the program will consist of stereopticon lecture on the Evolution of Modern Musical Instruments and the Toy Band by the Primary grades with Miss Davis, teacher.

GREENWOOD CITY

Mrs. Morgan Dead—Birthday Party

Mrs. Delilah Morgan passed away at her home here March 29, at the age of 73 years, 3 months and 3 days. She was born at Kennebunkport and educated there in the rural schools. At the age of seventeen, she married Edgar H. Morgan and came to live with his parents, where she tenderly cared for his mother in her last years. Aunt "Lyle" as she was known to most of the neighbors and children, was dearly loved by all.

Many a stormy night she has been called from her home to assist in sickness and she was always ready to go as long as she was able.

She leaves seven children: Mabel, wife of Elton Dunham of Bryant Pond; Floyd of South Paris; Frank, of Waterford; Henry and Cora of Locke's Mills; Roy, who has lived at home and with his wife, who was Mrs. Dan Paine's daughter, has tenderly cared for his mother; and Willie of Bryant Pond, also twenty-two grandchildren and ten great grandchildren; a brother, Eben Emmons of Wayne; a sister, Addie Noyes, of Bryant Pond, also a sister, Abbie Hayes, and an uncle Millard Emmons, who has made his home with them for a number of years, and helped in the care of Aunt Lyle, also when her husband was sick and died three years ago, he helped care for him.

Mr. Emmons is surely an expert nurse the most of his life has been spent caring for the sick.

Four years ago Mr. and Mrs. Morgan celebrated their golden wedding anniversary.

She was laid at rest in the Bennett yard in the Martin neighborhood, beside her husband. The flowers were many and beautiful, and spoke in silence of the love in which she was held.

Nearly everyone is having the prevailing distemper that is going around.

Mrs. A. M. Whitman spent Friday with her mother, Anna Hayes.

Grange and Politics

Editor Shorey of the Bridgton News plainly states his position. Undoubtedly he will be accused by some of being "bribed" by the interests. Be that as it may, we feel he is right and that the intelligence in that order looks at it about as he sees it. He says:

"We have been a member of the Grange for a good many years, not a very active member, it is true, but still a member and we are not going to leave it to a mere handful of excentive officers to tell us how we shall vote and when. We do not believe that the Grange was organized for any such purpose and do not believe that the members as a whole approve of such action. It may be that some of the Granges are extending invitations to speakers on both sides of these questions, but if this is so, we have failed to note it.

"Take for instance the discussion relative to the Eminent Domain law, concerning which there is so much foul talk. We do not believe one Grange in a hundred has ever read this law or knows what its essential provisions are. They are being told that some representative of the Grange called on Gov. Gardiner and demanded to know certain things, relative to the throwing out of the petitions and was referred by the Governor to the official report.

"Now we do not hold any brief for Gov. Gardiner. He is well able to take care of himself, but we can readily see why he did not care to enter into any controversy with somebody who called on him in behalf of trouble, especially when there had been a public hearing on the matter and he was open to everybody who cared to attend and who had an opportunity to be heard at that time.

"The governor had issued a report which covered the essential facts and if he was well within his rights when he refused, if he did, to reopen the matter. The Governor was sitting as a court and he had rendered his decision, after hearing the evidence presented on both sides. We do not suppose that this representative of the Grange, who came away from this interview, with the feeling that he had been rebuffed, would venture to approach one of the judge of our court, following the disposition of a case, with the suggestion that he review the case for his especial benefit.

"All of the state records, including the ballots cast at elections, the referendum petitions addressed to the chief executive and filed with the secretary of state, and all other records are open to the inspection of the public, during reasonable hours and under proper restrictions. If any official of the Grange feels that he has had a raw deal in this matter he has a perfect right to demand an inspection of these petitions and we do not believe the Governor, nor the secretary of state would deny him this right, provided he had filed notice of his desire and the state officials had been given an opportunity to notify other interested parties that such an inspection was about to take place.

"The right of eminent domain is not a new proposition, by any means. It has been granted by previous statute to many public utilities, including railroads, water companies, telephone companies and various others. The wonder is that such action has been delayed so long in this case. In the present instance the objection to eminent domain is caused by the feeling of hostility which these agitators have been stirring up against the Central Maine Power Company and its subsidiaries. The law fully safeguards the public. The location must first be approved by the public utilities commission. The right does not apply to lands located within 300 feet of an inhabited dwelling nor to lands, the location of which would interfere with other public utilities.

"There can be no progress without this right. One land owner, holding out against a transmission line being constructed over his property, might keep many of his neighbors who desire the service, from obtaining it. No way has yet been devised, as far as we know, of distributing electricity through the rural sections, without transmission lines. The Grangers are fighting for rural electrification and through the misrepresentation of some of the politicians are at the same time doing everything in their power to thwart it.

"We believe if the Grangers could be told the true facts in the case they would see the justice of the claim and that those who are trying to mislead them would be discredited. No, we do not object to a discussion of the vital issues of the state, at Grange meetings, but we do object to the kind of propaganda which is being broadcast by these political office seekers and these seekers after notoriety.

"If you really want to instruct our fellow Grangers as to the true facts, give them an opportunity to hear both sides discussed. Don't let these political propagandists pull the wool over their eyes."

Saco Valley United Parish

Mud time has been responsible for considerable disorganization of parish activities the past few weeks, but with improved road conditions the parish program will soon return to normal.

The North Fryeburg Willing Workers have been active all winter and report very happy times at all-day sessions at various members' homes. On Wednesday a splendid number met at the home of the president, Mrs. Gertrude Shaw, and considerable work was done. The ladies are meeting this week at the home of Mrs. Dresser.

All the Pioneer groups are talking baseball, and hunting dry spots where they can practice. The Lovell fellows are the veterans and have work-outs on Saturdays. North Fryeburg boys elected Byron Bemis as captain and Howard Thurston as trainer.

The Harbor Epworth League had a business meeting and social at the church on Friday. Necessary changes in the list of officers were made and Albert Graves elected 2nd vice president, Vera Hall, 3rd vice president, and Norman Gray and Leroy Smith as 4th vice presidents. The 4th committee is responsible for social activities and will arrange picnics, mountain trips and outdoor activities during the summer.

The "How to Enjoy the Bible" study group met at the home of Mrs. Myron Allen, on Wednesday.

The Ladies' Night of the Harbor Men's Club, postponed from last week, will be held on Friday. George Coe, president of the Kiwanis Club, will be the guest-speaker.

Next Sunday, Palm Sunday, there will be a reception service in the morning at the Harbor Church, when those desiring to join the church will be received into membership.

As far as possible there will be special services at all the churches during Holy Week, with special music and messages on Easter Sunday. The Lovell congregation expects to return to the church for worship on that day.

The committee appointed to arrange for the All-Parish Simultaneous canvass is to meet this week at the home of the treasurer, Mrs. Edith Charles, to appoint teams and make plans for the appeal.

Next Sunday will be the last day on which Methodist World Service offerings can be received to go to the credit of this year prior to the annual M. E. Conference which meets at Gardiner, Me., April 23rd.

H. R. Powers is at work on the road with his team, smoothing it with a drag.

Mrs. G. H. Learned was a caller at W. N. Powers', last Sunday.

Mrs. D. C. Smith has returned from her visit at North Paris.

KEZAR FALLS

The text at the morning service of the M. E. church last Sunday, was "Jesus Christ, the same yesterday and today, and forever". Mr. Callaghan's sermon was convincing and comforting. W. T. Norton's solo, "Jesus Lover of My Soul", one of the favorites. The choir were in their usual place and worthy of all praise. Our Easter Sunday, two weeks from last Sunday, at the morning service, the Girls' Glee Club, under the direction of Mrs. Walter Carpenter, will furnish the music. In the evening a concert by the Sunday school will be given, Mrs. Carpenter, Miss Mildred Mitchell and Miss Manda Fox, committee.

Porter high school commenced Monday, after a two weeks vacation.

Helen Pratt, student at Bates college, is with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pratt, during the vacation at Bates.

Ruth Palmer, who teaches in Braintree, Mass., spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Palmer; her brother, Maurice, from Shaw's Business College, and her two sisters, one a teacher, the other a pupil.

Theodore Leggett of Everett, Mass., was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Palmer over the week end.

Miss Annette Callaghan, one of the faculty of Porter high school, who has been visiting friends in New Hampshire and Massachusetts during vacation, has returned home.

Theda Fox of the Russell Sage College, Troy, N. Y., who has been the guest of her mother, Mrs. H. G. Fox, last week, returned to her studies.

Kezar Falls Kiwanis Club met in Limerick on the evening of April 7th. They had a good program. Rev. Cymbrid Hughes was the speaker, W. T. Norton was scheduled to sing a solo, "Life is But a Song", and two young ladies furnished readings, Miss Constance Fox and Miss Eleanor Shaw. Wendell Ridlon of West Baldwin favored the company with a violin solo and all members sang, singing being one of the features of the Kezar Falls Kiwanis Club. In fact they have even been accused of preferring singing to eating, not an unpardonable offence, but unusual. They don't even know where they were to eat Monday night, but had an idea it was in a church vestry and that the good sisters would attend to the supper.

DENMARK

Alma LeGoff is employed at the North Baldwin telephone exchange.

The Odd Fellows are having their lodge room painted and papered. Harry Kellar is doing the work.

Eva Augusta Bryant

Passed over peacefully and gently unto a higher life on the morning of March 29, Eva Augusta Bryant, at her home in Bryant Pond.

Mrs. Bryant was born in Woodstock, February 10, 1860, the youngest child of Rufus King and Abbie (Estes) Dunham. She received her education in the schools of Woodstock and on May 26, 1883, became the wife of Horatio D. Bryant. To them three children were given: Bessie Eva, wife of Herman E. Billings; Lottie Hanson, wife of Guy D. Hemingway, and Lester Dunham Bryant, all of Bryant Pond. These survive her, as do five grandchildren and two sisters.

She was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church and Jefferson Chapter O. E. S., in which order she served as Martha for many years, holding that office at time of her death.

The funeral was held at the Baptist Church, Tuesday afternoon, Rev. D. L. Joslin officiating, assisted by A. K. Filmore. The Eastern Star attended in a body. Burial in Lakeside Cemetery.

A devoted wife, wonderful mother and much loved grandmother has been called from us and while we deeply mourn our loss, knowing no grief could be keener than ours, we feel that we should

"Weep not that her toils are over,
Weep not that her race is run;
God grant we may rest as calmly
When our work, like hers, is done.
Till then we would yield our treasure;
Trusting in Him to keep,
And rest in the blessed assurance
He giveth His loved ones sleep."

Percy Whitney, who has been very sick with pneumonia, is much better.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kane have moved into the company rent vacated by Theodore Culbert and family.

Tamarack Talk

The Yale University Press has been very active in the movement to bring out the best of the younger poets who have not become widely recognized, but whose work is of such character as to warrant and call for attention in the future of American Poetry. The Yale Series of Younger Poets has brought out, now, two Vermonters. Ten years ago John Farrar's "Forgotten Shrines" was published. In the latter part of 1929, "Hemlock Wall" by Frances M. Frost was the second Vermont poet's work to come into book form through the Yale Series.

Frances M. Frost is not unknown to those who read the "New Yorker", the "Bookman", the "Forum" and other magazines for her verse has been appearing frequently. Her poetry is that of New England. She expresses the stark and bleak detail of the life and breath of New England in vivid, accurate and active rhythms that convey the poet's impressions in a distinctly modern manner.

Perhaps the poem "Choice" typifies most consummately the spirit of "Hemlock Wall."

"Choice"

You may keep your brave and brilliant hours
Washed, as the white sands are, by turquoise tides,
You may keep your strange exotic flowers
And songs that lift their bearing, purple sides
Against a sooner moon. Give me instead
A court New England hillside, whose bleak bones
Hold couple hollows lifted to my head.
Give me the touch of lichen that loves stones,
The ruinous cries of crows above a field,
The harsh and stinging tang of spruce-tree bark—
For something in me craves the stormy yield
Of a land whose very blossoming is stark.

In "Capture" we have the picture of one who loves the New England outdoors but who is forced to stay inside to do housework, while her heart is in the woods and the rambling pastures of the hillside.

"Capture"

My feet are tethered to painted floors,
My hands concerned with pewter and brass,
But there is a knocking at all the doors
And a pale-green wind in the doorstep grass.
Under my ribs lift tattered cries
Where only a guarded heart should be.
(I broke a dish when I shut my eyes
Against the sun in a plunging tree).
There is a knocking at each tall door
And the ivory inside panels are scarred:
I have been beating my knuckles sore
While night blew down and the hills were starred).

I am the keeper of wall and sill.
I kneel on the hearth to a tempered fire:
(Fresh that was wild can learn to be still.
But what of a heart that was born to briar?)

Here is how many a man feels on the farm:

Ending

This much he felt.
This he knew—
That there'd be always
Work to do.
Cattle to milk
And feed and tend.
Field to harvest.
Fences to mend.
Trees to fell
And draw and chop.
Crows to scare.
And blight to stop.
Potatoes to dig.
Butt'nuts to find.
And doors to shut
In heart and mind.

This choice lyric is a complete description of New England in its various seasons. It has a spicy modern tang.

Earth-Rhythms

These be temporal—
Snow and rain.
Thunder-drum and Hurricane.
Leaf and grass-blade.
Berry, briar,
April fog and
Autumn-fire.
Weed-choked road and
Mouldering tree.—
These be the brief-heard
Melody.
And these the permanent
Undertone—
Arrogant soil.
Defiant stone.

Certainly we get New England in "Hemlock Wall," though it may seem a too impersonal New England, a picture not sufficiently ripened by the personality or the presence of the poet herself. A more vital impression would have come if we had more of the poet herself in the poems.

Nevertheless Frances Frost has given us "small and exquisite ferns, in the woods on a mountain side," as she herself calls the modern short poems.

—Henry Davis Nadig.

BETHEL—GROVER HILL

Many washouts on the road since the recent heavy rain.

Cleve Waterhouse is working on the road.

Mrs. E. B. Whitman and Robert, who have been in town the past week, have returned to Norway.

Mrs. Mary Blake from Berlin, N. H., who has been assisting during the illness and death of her sister, Mrs. Frances M. Whitman, has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Mundt, who have been away on a visit, returned home Tuesday.

Word recently came to us that Miss Emma L. Stearns had fallen and broken her left wrist. She is with relatives in Hampden, near Bangor, where she is made very comfortable.

Mrs. Alice Waterhouse is having a bad cold and cough.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Gott from Bethel have moved their household goods to the Mrs. W. H. Hutchinson's farm which they have leased and will occupy in the fall.

Mrs. M. F. Tyler is slowly convalescing from a severe attack of grippe.

Feat after feat demonstrates power of

DYNAMIC NEW

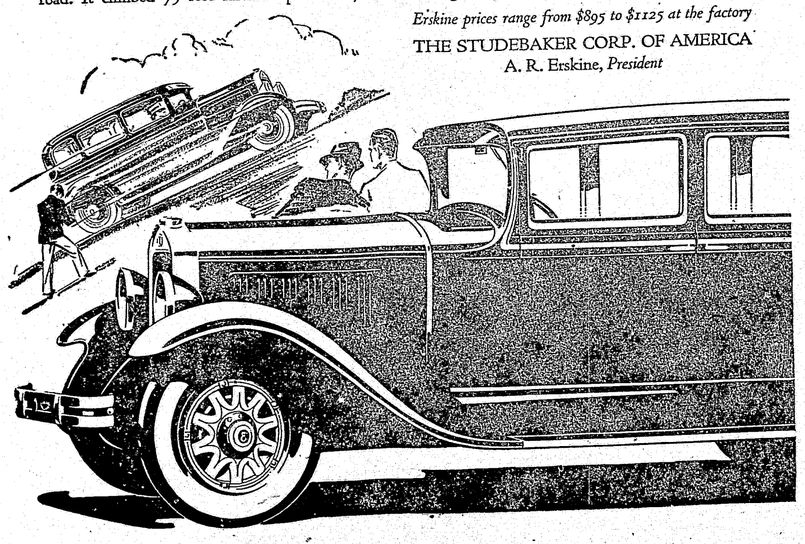

ERSKINE

LOW cost is no barrier to champion performance! A small down payment procures it for you in The Dynamic New Erskine. This BIG car has repeatedly proved its power and stamina in typical Studebaker fashion. At Pomona, California, it set a new record for the 7.1-mile climb up Mt. Baldy, winning the famous Progress-Bulletin trophy for the fastest climb ever made by a strictly stock car. It climbed Stone Mountain, near Atlanta, Georgia, with four passengers, at a point where there was no road. It climbed 75 feet farther up Motorcycle Hill, near El Paso, Texas, than any other car ever went. These and many other recent spectacular feats, certify that The Dynamic New Erskine, built by the Builder of Champions, is champion in its own right—entirely worthy of its 78-year-old heritage of quality.

DOWNEASTERS IN BROADCAST

Many, no doubt, have heard on Tuesday evenings the "Downeasters' Minstrels" in broadcasts through station WCSH at Portland. This is a typical Maine troupe of ten men carefully chosen for a particular job, each performer answers to a name of a city or town in the State. They have original opening and closing signatures, typical of the Down East Yankee and a real program of songs and comedy, just a little different than other teams in similar entertainments.

Besides appearing before the "mike," they fill minstrel show and dance engagements. In this, they have been highly successful and won complimentary press notices.

In tuning in WCSH any Tuesday evening at 10 o'clock, the "Downeasters" the good evening song may be heard as follows:

"We are Downeasters and we greet you with a song,
We are Downeasters and we'll help your day along.
We will try and make you happy and your confidence we'll win,
We will make you smile, make your life worth while.
Tune your radio and listen in
For we are Downeasters and we come from way down East in Maine."

The "Good-night and happy dreams" closing will be recognized by the following:

"We are Downeasters and we leave you with a smile,
We are Downeasters and we hope you liked our style.
Though we know you're tired and weary and feeling quite all in,
We'll be back Tuesday, drive your cares away
So don't forget to listen in
For we are Downeasters and we come from way down East in Maine."

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

The Divine Master, in His wisdom, has seen fit to remove our Worthy Chaplain, Charles S. Hamlin, from our midst.

Resolved: That Bear Mt. Grange has lost a beloved officer and Brother; one who was always faithful to his trust, and who was a friend to everyone.

Resolved: That we ever keep alive the memory of our Brother, and strive to follow the good example he has set us.

Resolved: That we extend our deepest sympathy to the widow and to the family of our Brother, and that these Resolutions be spread upon our records, a copy sent to the family, and a copy sent to the Norway Advertiser for publication.

NELLIE U. STONE,
BLANCHE M. TYLER,
HAROLD S. PIKE,
Committee on Resolutions.

Bear Mt. Grange, No. 62.

CARD OF THANKS

We extend our thanks to our relatives, neighbors and friends, and to Jefferson Chapter O. E. S., for their acts of kindness and beautiful floral offerings. Also to Rev. D. L. Joslin and A. K. Filmore for their words of comfort during our deep sorrow in the loss of our beloved wife and mother.

WEST FRYEBURG

Guests at Robbins'—Snells Gone to Rangeley—Captured Bear Cubs.

Mrs. John Webster and daughter, Alice, were visitors at Walter Hardy's, last week.

Ralph McKeen spent the week end with his grandmother, Mrs. Jennie McKeen, at Conway.

Visitors at Cleveland Robbins', Wednesday of last week were Mrs. Wallace Abbott and her three daughters, Madeline, Winnifred and Mrs. Laurence Flint and baby, also Mrs. William Pratt.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Morey are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son. Mrs. William Smith is caring for mother and son.

Mr. and Mrs. Snell have gone to Rangeley Lakes, where they both have employment. Mrs. Katherine Gray is to finish teaching the school, taking Mr. Snell's place.

The people from out of town who were here to attend the funeral of Mrs. James Hardy, were her brother, Owen Alley and wife, of Ipswich, Mass., and her nieces, Mrs. George Nickerson, of Silver Lake and her sister, Mrs. Boyd.

Marion Gilman went to Portland, Saturday, to have her pictures taken. She went with Mrs. Willis Farrington.

Steven Buzzell and family were in Lovell, Sunday, to see Mrs. Eli Witham.

George Garland of Boston, Mass., and Myron Gilman and his dog, Chip, were roaming in the woods, April 2, looking over the prospects for fishing, when suddenly the dog began to bark. They followed him and came to a bear's den in which were a mother bear and two cubs. They shot into the den and threw rocks, that aroused the old bear and she came out, with the dog at her heels. Mr. Garland sent Myron home for a rifle and when he came back Wendall Knox was with him. Knox got the cubs while the others watched the old bear. Myron had one bear, Knox the other. Knox sold his, but Myron's is very playful and is now quite tame. He drinks out of a small dish, and he weighs ten pounds.

Franklin Grange met Saturday evening, April 5th. Every officer present. The first and second degrees were conferred on Herbert Ross, Walter and Warren Tyler, Russell McAllister and Miss Mildred Noyes. There was a good attendance. The next meeting will be April 19th and will be conferring the third and fourth degrees.

The Jolly Workers 4-H Club met at the home of their leader, Mrs. Abner Mann, last week for an all day meeting, with Miss Mildred Brown, state club leader, and Miss Evelyn Plummer, county club leader, present. Following the business meeting, Miss Plummer gave a talk on pictures and the correct way of hanging and framing them. Passepartouting was demonstrated. Miss Brown gave an instructive talk on the refinishing of rooms, showing the different paints and fabrics to use for this work, on floors, walls, furniture, etc. After dinner, Elsie Abbott and Irene Ames gave a demonstration on "The Use of Color in Bedrooms". A tour was made to two girls' rooms, where they received suggestions to help in the re-arrangement of furniture and other improvements. Besides the state, county and local leader, there were present the assistant leader, Mrs. Edith Abbott, and eight club members.

STATE OF MAINE

Oxford, ss. Superior Court In Equity

Pepperell Manufacturing Company vs. Austin C. Drury, once of Denmark, Oxford County, Maine, whose whereabouts is unknown, and person and persons unknown, who are the legal heirs, legal representatives, grantees, devisees, or assigns of, or who claim, in any other way, by, through or under said Austin C. Drury, et als.

Pepperell Manufacturing Company, a corporation duly created by law and having an established place of business at Biddeford, in the County of York and State of Maine, complains against Austin C. Drury, once of Denmark, Oxford County, Maine, whose whereabouts is unknown, and against the person and persons unknown, who are the legal heirs, legal representatives, grantees, devisees, or assigns of, or who claim, in any other way, by, through or under the said Austin C. Drury, and against all other persons unknown, their heirs, legal representatives, grantees, devisees, or anyone claiming under them, who claim or may claim some right, title, interest, demand, claim to, in or against the property which is described in the first paragraph of this bill, and says:

FIRST: That it is seized in fee simple and in possession of a certain parcel of land in the Town of Denmark, Oxford County, State of Maine, together with the storage dam thereon, located across the outlet of Moose Pond, and the dam privileges connected therewith, and all gates, gate-houses, sluiceways and machinery and all water rights appurtenant to the said dam, namely: Beginning on the northerly side of the road leading from Denmark Town Hall to Fryeburg and at the southwesterly corner of land formerly of Mrs. H. N. Bryant, being the hotel lot and now owned by one C. E. Cobb; thence north thirty-nine (39) degrees thirty-seven (37) minutes east about two hundred and seventy-three (273) feet to the shore of Moose Pond; thence southwesterly by the shore of said pond to the northerly side line of the first parcel set off to Sewall Fly by execution dated December 26, 1856, recorded in said Oxford Registry of Deeds, Book 31, Page 488, thence westerly to an angle in said line; thence northwesterly sixteen (16) rods more or less to the northerly corner of said lot so set off; thence southwesterly fifteen (15) rods more or less, to a point; thence easterly to the road leading to Lovell; thence southerly by said road to its junction with the said road leading to Fryeburg; thence easterly by the last mentioned road to the point of beginning, together with all water rights and water privileges appurtenant to and connected with said premises except as hereinbefore set forth, excepting, however, such rights as the public may have in the said road leading to Lovell across the above described premises, and subject to such water rights, if any, as was conveyed by Barnabas Brackett to Leonard Berry by deed dated October 23, 1839, recorded in Oxford County Registry of Deeds, Western District, Book 20, Page 312.

SECOND: That your complainant claims an estate of free-hold in the whole of said property above described and claims to be the absolute owner in fee simple, excepting the rights of the public in said road as aforesaid, and subject to said water rights as aforesaid.

THIRD: That your complainant and those under whom it claims have been in uninterrupted and continuous possession of said property described in the first paragraph of this bill for more than twenty years next preceding the date of this bill, claiming an estate of freehold therein during all of said time.

FOURTH: That your complainant and those under whom it claims have been in actual, continuous and uninterrupted possession of said property described in the first paragraph of this bill for more than twenty years next preceding the date of this bill, to wit, since 1900, and prior thereto, holding said property by open, exclusive, peaceable, continuous, uninterrupted and adverse possession in their own right, and claiming title thereto in fee simple, excepting that part of said property described in deed from Austin C. Drury to Pepperell Manufacturing Company dated January 9, 1872, and recorded in Oxford Registry of Deeds, Western District, Vol. 58, Page 158, the complainant claiming title thereto by said deed and through various mesne conveyances duly recorded in said Registry, from said Pepperell Manufacturing Company to your complainant.

FIFTH: That said Austin C. Drury or persons unknown, claiming as heirs, devisees or assigns, or in some other way, by, through or under the said Austin C. Drury, may claim some right, title, interest, or estate in the said real estate adverse to your complainant, and requiring the production of evidence to meet said claim, whereby a cloud upon the title of your complainant to said premises is created and the market value thereof depreciated, and the easy sale of the same prevented.

SIXTH: That the whereabouts of the said Austin C. Drury is unknown and cannot be ascertained by reasonable diligence; that the names of all other defendants herein are to your complainant unknown.

WHEREFORE, your complainant respectfully prays:

1. That this Honorable Court may decree that the said defendants and all persons claiming by law under them may be forever enjoined from setting up any claim to the premises described in the first paragraph of this bill.

2. That this Court decree that the complainant is the true, lawful and only owner of the premises described in the first paragraph of this bill.

3. That the complainant may have such other and further relief as the nature of this action may require and as to this Honorable Court may seem meet.

4. That such order of notice be issued by this Honorable Court as to it may seem fit and proper.

Dated at Biddeford, Maine, this 27th day of March, A. D. 1930.

Now Comes Our Annual
Refurnishing and Trade-In Sale

Hundreds of people annually take advantage of this event, which makes it possible to dispose of worn-out, undesirable or out-of-style furniture, without making a tremendous sacrifice.

What You May Trade In

Any article of furniture or furnishings may be traded in—an old range, suite, odd pieces and countless other items will be accepted.

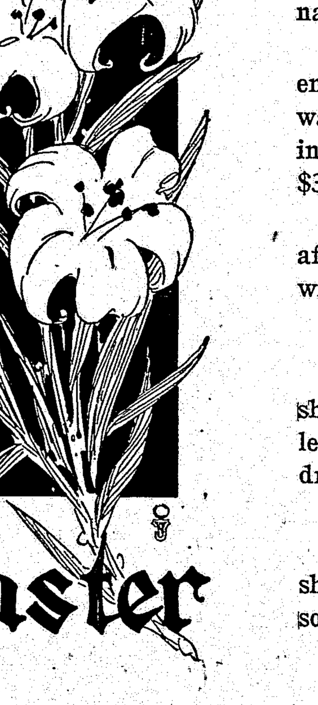

Read How Simple It Is!

Nothing about this plan to confuse you. You are familiar with the method of trading-in an old automobile toward a new one and you proceed in exactly the same manner in trading in your old furniture.

Heard and Seen at Advertiser Office

Blackbirds arrived April 7 and the song of a solitary peep frog was heard that evening.

"Give the grass a chance" is the diplomatic sign on the lawn at Freeland Howe's music store. It is a polite way of telling the crowd to keep off.

Sent in: "Some of the finest fishing memories are built around a bamboo pole, a can of worms, a cheap line and a single hook." Let us add, that such an outfit also inspires some of the biggest lies.

The fishing fever got him. F. W. Sanborn, with Walter C. Smith at the wheel, started for Sebago Lake, fishing, Wednesday morning, making headquarters at Thompson's Camps at Naples. This is the beginning of a long list of fishing engagements for the season of 1930.

You will soon find an interesting article entitled, "Dixfield Forty Years Ago" in the Advertiser, written by Emerson P. Bartlett. Watch for it and read it, especially if you lived there around "forty years" ago. You may be one of the characters mentioned and you will want to "see" what it is all about.

Miss Eileen Dullea of Mamaroneck, N. Y., formerly of Norway is deeply interested in the lake ice question. Her home is near Lake Pennesseewassee and for years she witnessed the inspiring scene of a general collapse of the ice field. Her guess is April 27, 4:30 p. m. We have passed her guess along to one of the stores for registration and wish her luck in the race for a fly rod.

E. C. Murch came in the other morning wearing a long face. It seems he was out the night before, down to Masonic Hall and lost his new pair of rubbers. He says one of course accidentally walked off with them and if they knew whose they were they would gladly return them. Someone was heard to remark, "Well there, E. C. has got over losing his false teeth, but has taken to losing his rubbers now."

Speaking of the good old days, a story vouched for by a Norway citizen is as follows: "On April 9, 1852, seventy-eight years ago, three feet of old snow covered the ground. Snow commenced falling on the night of the 11th and the next day not a fence was in sight."

Well! modern conditions are not so bad after all. If a few feathery flakes come drifting down before May 1st, let our thoughts drift back to the roaring 70's.

Maine Publicity Bureau of Longfellow Square, Portland, sends us an interesting pamphlet called: "A Primer on the Recreational Industry of Maine." It is of real interest to every thoughtfully forward looking citizen of this State. It shows what is being done or attempted to be done in advertising the attractions of our state. It is worthy careful study of every citizen who can read, write, or cipher and has a desire to know what is being done to attract vacationists, should see a copy. Address, Publicity Bureau, Portland, Me.

D. Crommet Clark, 22 Oxford Street, Somerville, Mass.: "Yours received. I saw Osman Warren Brown and the Luce Clipping Bureau which you sent brings Norway back to mind. I expect you are starting in fishing, or will soon. I'm expecting to go out from Boston on a fishing boat once or twice this season.

"Returning to Luce clippings. The whole argument for the free papers is that it is to your advantage to have the papers clipped and clippings sent to the kind of parties that order them from the clip-bureau. That is sort of a glory argument, you get some fame, but no money. The glory, however, is real. Your decision is characteristic.

"Business conditions are hard here in Boston. Very few printers are working full time."

We refused to put the Luce Clipping Bureau on our mailing list. We need money, not fame or glory.

Charles E. Caswell of Concord, N. H., says: "Brother Sanborn: For more than thirty years I published a newspaper in a town not as large as Norway, giving the world the best I had; however, let me tell you, The Advertiser, as a whole is the best all-around town paper I have ever read. I read most every line of it and find it bristling with live matter interesting to your people and the world at large who happen to be fortunate enough to read it and can place themselves back in the old home town—their home own and their own folks of other days."

Mr. Caswell also sends the following poem:

When the evenin' meal is over an' the dishes put away,
An' you settle down to store your mind with happenin's of the day,
Comes a peaceful feelin' o'er you brushin' from your face a frown,
As you scan the weekly paper from your ol' home town.
It tells you all about who's sick an' those who come an' go,
Likewise the comin' vendue at the farm of Jabez Stowe.
The burnin' of the cider mill belongin' to "Hub" Brown,
Gets a write-up in the paper from your ol' home town.
There ain't an entertainment or a meetin' where they pray,
But what I know about it though I'm livin' far away.
If the chickenpox is ragin' or the mumps is goin' roun'
I peruse it in the paper from my ol' home town
I read the mornin' papers and the evenin' papers, too,
An' I sometimes pick a novel up an' sort of skip it through;
And when I want some pabulum, which nowhere else is foun',
I unwrap the little paper from my ol' home town.

GIRLS' CLUBS

The Pennesseewassee 4-H Girls' Sewing Club met at Mrs. Marion Holt's, on Crescent Street, Thursday, April 3. Miss Evelyn Plummer, county agent, and Miss Mildred Brown, assistant state leader, were present. A business meeting was conducted by the president. Miss Brown talked about the color scheme and the arrangements of rooms. Refreshments were served. Meeting was adjourned until April 16.

The Pennesseewassee 4-H Girls' Cooking and Housekeeping Club met with Mrs. Edith Buck on Pike's Hill, April 4, at 10 o'clock a. m. The girls judged muffins and Olive Martin was the champion. A lovely dinner was prepared and served by the Club girls, consisting of mashed potatoes, cold boiled ham, hot rolls, fruit salads, with cocoa. Ice cream was served with cake and soda crackers.

In the afternoon the meeting was called to order by the Vice President. Miss Evelyn Plummer, the county agent, and Miss Mildred Brown, the assistant State leader, were present. Miss Plummer gave an interesting talk on cereals. Meeting was adjourned until April 19.

Wildey Encampment, No. 21, I. O. O. F., will work the Golden Rule degree, Friday, April 11.

Frank W. Lovering of West Medford, Mass., was a week end guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Dunn.

Norway Lodge, No. 16, I. O. O. F., will hold a special rehearsal of the 1st degree, Tuesday evening, April 15th.

Repairs were made Tuesday on Hillside Avenue, deeply gullied and washed out during the rain storm, Monday morning.

Heard and Seen at Advertiser Office

Blackbirds arrived April 7 and the song of a solitary peep frog was heard that evening.

"Give the grass a chance" is the diplomatic sign on the lawn at Freeland Howe's music store. It is a polite way of telling the crowd to keep off.

Sent in: "Some of the finest fishing memories are built around a bamboo pole, a can of worms, a cheap line and a single hook." Let us add, that such an outfit also inspires some of the biggest lies.

The fishing fever got him. F. W. Sanborn, with Walter C. Smith at the wheel, started for Sebago Lake, fishing, Wednesday morning, making headquarters at Thompson's Camps at Naples. This is the beginning of a long list of fishing engagements for the season of 1930.

You will soon find an interesting article entitled, "Dixfield Forty Years Ago" in the Advertiser, written by Emma P. Bartlett. Watch for it and read it especially if you lived there around "forty years" ago. You may be one of the characters mentioned and you will want to "see" what it is all about.

Miss Eileen Dullea of Manaroneek, N. Norway is deeply interested in the lake ice question. Her home is near Lake Pennesseewassee and for days she witnessed the inspiring scene of general collapse of the ice field. Guess is April 27, 4:30 p. m. We passed her guess along to one of the judges for registration and wish her luck in the race for a fly rod.

Mr. March came in the other morning with a long face. It seems he was out the night before, down to Masonic Hall and lost his new pair of rubbers. He says one of course accidentally walked away with them and if they knew whose rubbers were they would gladly return them. Someone was heard to remark, "Well Mr. E. C. has got over losing his false teeth, but has taken to losing his rubbers now."

Speaking of the good old days, a story is told for by a Norway citizen is as follows: "On April 9, 1852, seventy-eight years ago, three feet of old snow covered the ground. Snow commenced falling on the night of the 11th and the next day not a fence was in sight." Well modern conditions are not so bad after all. If a few feathery flakes are drifting down before May 1st, let our thoughts drift back to the roaring 50's.

Maine Publicity Bureau of Longfellow Square, Portland, sends us an interesting booklet called: "A Primer on the Recreational Industry of Maine.' It is of special interest to every thoughtfully forward looking citizen of this State. It shows what is being done or attempted to be done in advertising the attractions of our state. It is worthy careful study of every citizen who can read, write, or cipher and has a desire to know what is being done to attract vacationists, should see a copy. Address, Publicity Bureau, Portland, Me.

D. Crommet Clark, 22 Oxford Street, Somerville, Mass.: "Yours received. I see Osman Warren Brown and the Luce Clipping Bureau which you sent brings Norway back to mind. I expect you are starting in fishing, or will soon. I'm expecting to go out from Boston on a fishing boat once or twice this season.

"Returning to Luce clippings. The whole argument for the free papers is that it is to your advantage to have the papers clipped and clippings sent to the kind of parties that order them from the clip-bureau. That is sort of a glory argument, you get some fame. but no money. The glory, however, is real. Your decision is characteristic.

"Business conditions are hard here in Boston. Very few printers are working full time."

We refused to put the Luce Clipping Bureau on our mailing list. We need money, not fame or glory.

Charles E. Caswell of Concord, N. H., says: "Brother Sanborn: For more than thirty years I published a newspaper in a town not as large as Norway, giving the world the best I had; however, let me tell you, The Advertiser, as a whole is the best all-around town paper I have ever read. I read most every line of it and find it bristling with live matter interesting to your people and the world at large who happen to be fortunate enough to read it and can place themselves back in the old home town—their home town and their own folks of other days."

Mr. Caswell also sends the following poem:

When the evenin' meal is over an' the dishes put away,
An' you settle down to store your mind with happenin's of the day,
Comes a peacetul feelin' o'er you brushin' from your face a frown,
As you scan the weekly paper from your ol' home town.

It tells you all about who's sick an' those who come an' go,
Likewise the comin' vendue at the farm of Jabez Stowe.
The burnin' of the cider mill belongin' to "Hub" Brown,
Gets a write-up in the paper from your ol' home town.

There ain't an entertainment or a meetin' where they pray,
But what I know about it though I'm livin' far away.
If the chickenpox is ragin' or the mumps is goin' roun'
I peruse it in the paper from my ol' home town.

I read the mornin' papers and the evenin' papers, too,
An' I sometimes pick a novel up an' sort of skip it through;
And when I want some pabulum, which nowhere else is foun',
I unwrap the little paper from my ol' home town.

"THE ARRIVAL OF KITTY"

Norway High's Senior drama, "The Arrival of Kitty" at the Norway Opera House, Thursday evening, April 17, is particularly suited to students and should give their patrons an unusual evening of good farce comedy.

Carrying a clever plot, with funny lines and ludicrous situations, it has been played more than any other amateur production ever written.

Unusual in high school shows is a female impersonation, extremely clever and funny, weaving a plot of mystery and comedy, which will prove very interesting and amusing.

EAST WATERFORD

Mrs. Leslie E. McIntire

After an illness of two days, Mrs. Edith R. McIntire, wife of Leslie E. McIntire of East Waterford passed away at her home, "Greenfields", about noon, Tuesday, April 8. She was taken ill on Sunday and failed rapidly. Up to that time she had been in her usual good health.

Mrs. McIntire was born in North Waterford, January 31, 1861, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sawin. She was married to Mr. McIntire Feb. 1, 1880, and they have always resided in the town of Waterford. On February 1st, last, they celebrated their golden anniversary with a home gathering of relatives and friends.

The deceased was prominent in Grange circles and active in the work of the Greater Parish. Her religion preference was Universalist.

Besides her husband she leaves a son, Clayton S. McIntire of Waterford, a daughter, Mrs. Lula G. Pinkham, a sister, Mrs. Bertrand G. McIntire of Norway, and two grandchildren, Mary and Myron F. McIntire. There are also nephews and nieces.

SACO RIVER FALLING

Although the Saco River was running over the Roosevelt Trail at East Fryeburg to the depth of two or three feet in one place, Tuesday night, the water was dropping slightly, due to the fall in temperature. There was a swift current where the water covered the road at the greatest depth, but two automobile successfully negotiated the place.

The water rose steadily throughout the night, Monday, until 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, and then remained at the same level until nightfall.

The road at East Conway is clear once more and Shepherd's River at Brownfield is dropping steadily.

There is still much snow in the woods back in the mountains and a warm spell undoubtedly will mean another rise in the river, but it is considered doubtful if there would be danger of a freshet unless a heavy rainfall set in.

Col. A. J. Stearns Outlines Duties of Public Utilities Commission

Address Given at Bangor Before the League of Women Voters

In an address before the League of Women Voters at the Bangor Public Library, Col. A. J. Stearns of Norway, chairman of the Maine Public Utilities Commission spoke of the reasons for which the commission was created and the way it functions.

Col. Stearns said in part:

"The commission was created by Act of Legislature of 1913 and organized in December of the following year, 1914. It was created in line with what is generally known as progressive legislation, in step with similar legislation, passed in other states and in tune with the advanced thought of the times as a means of regulating utilities charged with public service. The plan had been tested and found to work much more satisfactorily and effectively than the old method of regulation by direct legislation and municipal action, with redress of grievances limited to an appeal to the deliberate processes of the courts.

"Broadly speaking, our Commission may be said to be divided into six general subdivisions:

"Three commissioners with official clerk, reporters and stenographers; an engineering division; the accounting and auditing division; a division of rates and schedules; railroads and steamboat inspections and investigations, and water resources. These divisions comprehend a total personnel of twenty-one.

"The Commissioners are appointed by the Governor for a term of seven years—at present they consist of Honorable Herbert W. Trafton of Fort Fairfield, General Albert Greenlaw of Eastport and myself.

"We have jurisdiction over only such utilities as the statutes define and place under us, namely: Electric and gas companies, water companies, railroads, electric and steam, steamboats, telephone and telegraph companies, warehouse men, wharfingers, bus lines. (Limited jurisdiction—not enumerated as a utility in the statute).

"These formerly numbered approximately 600; now reduced by consolidation and other eliminations to about 425.

"It is our duty to see that all these utilities furnish adequate service to the public at just and reasonable rates without undue discrimination, and that their practices are fair and just. It sounds easy enough, if you say it quickly.

"Bear in mind that there are now about 425 of these companies, large and small—good, bad and indifferent—mostly good I would say, not many really bad, but far too many rather indifferent in some very important details. Bear in mind also that they are serving or undertaking to serve approximately $750,000 people—I do not mean that they are all receiving all classes of these services, but in some form or other one or more of these utilities mentioned touch the life, and influence the mode of living of nearly everyone within the borders of this state.

"Nearly a century and a half ago the framers of our Federal Constitution laid down the premise upon which the successful operation, if not the very existence of any public utility always has and always will depend."

Col. Stearns discussed at length the sacredness of property rights—the basic principle underlying the Revolution, the Civil War and the World War, saying in this connection:

"And so the commission in fixing rates must not only make them fair to the consumer, but also must see that the property rights of the companies and individuals whose capital is invested are not invaded. The scales of justice must be held in even balance and at steady poise to the end that the interests of the consumers on the one side and the property rights of the utilities on the other are fairly preserved and properly protected."

Specifically citing many cases, he drew this conclusion: "It has ever been continuously recognized by the courts that rate-making is a legislative function to be exercised by the legislature or its agency; that 'rate-making is no function of the courts and should not be attempted either directly or indirectly', that 'the prescribing of rates is a legislative act'; that 'the Commission is an instrumentality of the state exercising delegated powers'; and that 'its order is of the same force as would be a like enactment of the legislature.'"

Later he said:

"The Commission is not a court. It is a fact-finding body, charged with the duty of administering the law. There is a rate which is just and reasonable as between the public utility and the public. It is that rate which the Commission should strive to ascertain and order. Rates fixed by it must not be so low as to cross the line of confiscation, nor should they ordinarily closely approach that line; on the other hand, they should not be so high as to be unjust or unreasonable.

"Much is being written and much said by the press, economists, publicists, politicians and statesmen, both for and against rate regulation by regulatory bodies such as ours. Some say that regulation should be by Federal authority, some believe in public ownership, while others reject both these theories, holding that the necessary and all sufficient remedy is to be found in better laws, better technique and more efficient personnel for the regulatory commissions.

"Some assail the central principle and aim of regulation, which is service at cost with limited profits. Others defend both the principle and the results of the system, as the best obtainable under human institutions. Some say the present system of regulation encourages the adoption of excessive construction costs and values.

"The higher the rate base, the higher the profits for the companies. They say the companies lose nothing from inefficient operating methods, while they gain from unduly high rate bases; that the consumer suffers from both these factors at both ends and in the middle.

"I speak of these criticisms merely in general terms, as a criticism of commissions in general or against the system as a whole, not as leveled against our commission or our practice, or the results which we have obtained here in Maine.

"In defense of the system and the work of regulatory commissions generally, let me quote no less an expert and judge of results in the field of public endeavor than Herbert Hoover, himself an engineer of wide experience and observation, who just before he became President of the United States, said:

'I am proud of the progress in the theory and practice of utility regulation made in the last 30 years, a large proportion of it due to the State Commissions. It has brought great economic values to the nation and an assurance of justice and protection to our citizens. I would not have that progress cease.'

"However probably these criticisms deserve critical examination and careful study to the end that any weaknesses in the law, if there be such, may be corrected and a greater vigilance demonstrated on the part of those of us having the responsibility of administering that law.

"Personally I feel that the public and the press have been patient, considerate and fair, even generous with our Commission during the time since I became its chairman, and we must and shall continue our endeavors in the cause of regulation in this State, according to our best lights, as it shall be given to us to see the light, administering the law as we find it upon the statute books without fear or favor and without hope of fee or reward except that most perfect and enduring reward, not measured by salary or compensated by wages, the consciousness of a task well and faithfully performed."

Ladies Served Fine Supper—Mrs. Whitney and Son Gone to New York—Mrs. Hapgood Entertained Club.

The Ladies of the Calvary Community church served their usual fine supper last Wednesday in charge of Mrs. C. H. Pitts. The Parent-Teachers' Association met in the evening. Mrs. B. M. Davis presided in the absence of the president. Community singing with Mrs. Hobart Denison, pianist, was followed by a delightful talk by Miss Gail Laughlin of Portland, famous lawyer and Representative to the Legislature. She gave a most inspiring talk to the parents and teachers.

Mrs. Nathaniel Whitney and son, Freeman, left Saturday for New York, where they will spend a few weeks with her parents in Jamaica.

Mrs. Edith Whitney fell on the stairs at her home and broke a small bone in the ankle.

Sheep, poultry and pigeon manures make excellent fertilizer for the garden. They are very strong, however, and should be used sparingly. Pulvarized sheep manure is handled commercially by seedsmen and dealers in garden supplies. Sheep, poultry and pigeon manures lose their value rapidly if exposed to the weather. Lime should not be used as an absorbent in the poultry house as it liberates the nitrogen of the poultry manure.

High in power-moderate in weight --and therefore
SUPERIOR in PERFORMANCE

An 85-horsepower engine makes the New Oakland Eight the highest powered car produced for its weight and size, only racing cars excepted. Because it develops one horsepower to 37 pounds of car weight, few cars can match the New Oakland's speed, pick-up and power. This ratio of power to weight accounts for its superior performance. . . . Furthermore, the inherent eight-cylinder smoothness of the power plant is intensified by a complete down-draft fuel system—new type cylinder heads—a short, very rigid crankshaft—and laminated steel spring and rubber engine supports. . . . The New Oakland Eight is also very economical to own. Its gasoline mileage equals that of many sixes of comparable size. Its sound basic design assures dependability and long service. And the extreme accessibility of its parts keeps maintenance costs at the minimum. . . . Come in and see this car with smartly tailored bodies by Fisher. It will convince you that you can now own an exceptionally fine eight at a very moderate price.

$1045 AND UP

The New Oakland Eight, $1045 and up, f. o. b. Pontiac, Michigan, plus delivery charges. Lovejoy Hydraulic Shock Absorbers included in list prices. Bumpers, rear fender guards and spring covers extra. General Motors Time Payment Plan available at minimum rate.

Consider the delivered price as well as the list (f. o. b.) price when comparing automobile values. Oakland delivered prices include only authorized charges for freight and delivery and the charge for any additional accessories or financing desired.

WEAR a new hat with a shabby suit—you'll look better. Wear a new hat with a good suit—you'll look splendid. Ethyl fluid is like a new hat.

Add Ethyl to ordinary gasoline—and the gasoline becomes better. Add Ethyl to the best possible gasoline—and you have the finest motor fuel that science has yet produced.

Before we added Ethyl to Socony Special, it was acknowledged the best gasoline sold in New York and New England. We added Ethyl to Socony Special at the same price—sales jumped 40%.

Socony Special plus Ethyl is the fastest selling premium gasoline because it makes motorists actually feel their cars come alive.

Remember, too, that it is the only premium gasoline sold in New York and New England, to which Ethyl has been added.

Prevention of Childhood Tuberculosis

On Tuesday, April 1st, the Maine Public Health Association and its affiliated organizations launched its third annual campaign stressing the importance of the Early Diagnosis for the prevention of Tuberculosis. This year the prevention of Childhood Tuberculosis will be particularly emphasized during the month's campaign.

It has been demonstrated scientifically here in Maine that most cases of adult tuberculosis begin during childhood. The important question rises: What is to be done about it? 1,400 health associations throughout the country are busy this month meeting the problems, and Maine's health agencies are listed among these progressive associations which are diligently working to protect the children.

Cooperation with physicians, nurses, teachers, parents, civic clubs and other organizations is essential.

The main object to be attained in the 1930 campaign is to inform the public that tuberculosis usually begins in childhood, lies dormant through the first few years of growth, and in early youth when the strain of life begins to wear down resistance, breaks out as actual disease. This fact is not commonly understood. When people begin to realize its significance, they will want to know how it may be prevented. The steps necessary to prevent the development of active tuberculosis are clearly outlined to the public during the campaign. All children whether an examination shows them to be perfectly healthy or suffering from tubercular infection, to enable them to develop into adult life in the best possible condition should:

1. Keep away from sick people, especially adults who have tuberculosis.
2. Get plenty of rest.
3. Eat nourishing food.
4. Have work, study and play carefully supervised.
5. Consult the doctor regularly.

The Maine campaign has the endorsement of Dr. Clarence P. Robinson, State Commissioner of Health, who will soon be kindly broadcast a talk over the WCSH, Portland, on Childhood Tuberculosis, sometime during the month of April.

The staff nurses of the Maine Public Health Association who are actively engaged in doing special Tuberculosis preventive work among children during the month are Miss Winnifred Dargie, Hancock County; Mrs. Minerva Holt, Flanders Bay District; Mrs. Bertha P. Lamb, Southwest Harbor-Tremont; Miss Myrtle Fox, Millinocket; Miss Olive Bussey, Dexter-Garland-Ripley Nursing Service; Miss Katherine Noble, Penobscot County; Mrs. Louise Nichols, Piscataquis County; Miss Emma McKay Robinson, Somerset County; Miss Julia G. Wilson, Sheepscot; Miss Ada Stafford, North Franklin County; Mrs. Flora Mallett, Franklin County; Mrs. Maud R. Tuttle, Norway; Miss Ruth Nason and Miss Katharine Ferguson, York County.

Mrs. Theresa R. Anderson, Supervising Nurse for the Association and Miss Alice M. Buck, Child Health Education Director, are scheduled to speak in various sections of Maine during the campaign, while Miss Bella Davis, Clinic Nurse, is arranging her program of clinics with special reference to the children of Maine who have been exposed to active tuberculosis and who are in need of particular attention or X-ray pictures.

The money for the financing of the campaign was raised during the recent Christmas health seal and bond sale which was successfully conducted under the direction of Mrs. Alice McGouldrick, Financial Secretary, for the Maine Public Health Association.

WATERFORD

Fellowship Meeting Well Attended—Mrs. Millett Ill.

The Fellowship Meeting was well attended and very interesting. A committee of ladies served a delicious supper, after which various topics of interest were discussed. Ralph Brandon from Yale was present.

School began on Monday, after a three weeks' vacation.

The downpour of Sunday night caused the brook to overflow its banks, washing the road badly, near Guy Bancroft's. The brook was over the footbridge at Ned Stone's house and overflowed the road in other places.

Mrs. L. Millett has been ill in bed for a few days. Her daughter, Mrs. Mahlon Rogers, has been caring for her.

Some of the ladies here attended the sewing bee held at South Waterford on Monday and Tuesday. The work was done for the family of Lee Kimball, who lost nearly all their possessions in the fire which destroyed their buildings last week.

SOUTH ALBANY

Mrs. McKeen Improving—Guests at Sawin's.

The past week has been ideal sap weather. Freezing nights and warm days have brought out the "sweetenin' juice" abundantly. Robins, bluebirds and song sparrows have returned from the sunny south. Their sweet songs tell us that spring is surely here.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cox of East Waterford visited at her home here over the week end.

Beatrice Canwell has been sick with a bad cold and unable to attend school several days the past week. The rest of the family are all afflicted with the same trouble.

Willis Littlefield of North Waterford has been at Ernest Brown's sawing wood with his gasoline outfit for several days.

Mrs. Estella McKeen is improving in health. She has been ill nearly all winter. Mr. and Mrs. Morrison of Poland are stopping there.

Mrs. Ernest Grover and son, Robert, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Allen, of Albany.

Edna and Ethel Kimball of South Waterford and Edward Holt of Norway visited their grandfather, Merritt Sawin, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Lebroke called at Mr. Sawin's, last week, Monday.

Ernest Wentworth, Mahlon Grover and Stanley Brown of East Waterford were here Saturday looking after cows to buy.

June Brown has returned to her school at South Waterford.

Miss Emma Flint is ill with a bad cold.

Mrs. James Kimball recently received word from her nephew, Ernest Cross, of Portland, that his wife had passed away. Mrs. Cross has been in poor health for some time.

June Brown visited her friend, Mrs. John Fox, one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Klament and daughter, Antoinette, and Mr. and Mrs. George Crooker and Allen of Norway visited at Merritt Sawin's, Sunday.

Mrs. Roy Wardwell went to North Waterford, Saturday. Mrs. Leon Kimball and daughter, Lucie, were also at the same place the same day.

EAST STONEHAM

Mr. and Mrs. Roland McAlister and Mrs. Floyd McAlister were callers at Stanwood Nelson's, Sunday.

The Keewaydin Klub held a social at the vestry, Saturday evening. Refreshments were served and games were played until a late hour.

Leon Stearns of Norway was a caller in town, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Rogers of Norway spent the week end with her mother, Mrs. Georgia McAlister.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Doughty were in Lewiston, Friday.

Frank Grover and family of Oxford were Sunday visitors at Errol Barker's.

John Files, Jr., spent the past week with his aunt, Mrs. Blanche McKeen.

Mrs. Harold Farrington and Mrs. Leonard Doughty were in Norway and Oxford, Saturday.

Richard Files and Christine Nelson returned to Norway High School, Monday, after a week's vacation.

OXFORD—FORE STREET

Marjorie Twitchell is taking a two weeks vacation from the Norway Food Shoppe. Chestina will take her place.

Mrs. A. D. Cummings is very ill. She is being cared for by a trained nurse from the C. M. G. Hospital.

David Staples is at Ai Twitchell's.

Mrs. Flora Cummings was called to South Paris to care for Mrs. Cutler, Friday.

Miss Marjorie Twitchell and mother are in Portland for a few days.

Phyllis and Mark Daniels of Paris visited at their grandfather's several days last week.

Oxford County United Parish

Embracing Albany, North Lovell, Stoneham and the Waterfords. Pastoral Staff: Revs. W. I. Bull, B. F. Wentworth, A. C. Townsend

Rev. W. I. Bull has been sick during the past week, and is still confined to his bed, but is reported as gaining.

The Lenten season is being observed by the use of the booklet, "The Fellowship of Prayer" in the homes and as a basis for sermons by the Staff.

Membership suppers are being held in the different churches. One was held at Stoneham two weeks ago, and one last week at Waterford. Similar gatherings are planned for North Waterford and North Lovell this week.

During Holy Week a set of stereopticon slides on the Life or Christ will be used throughout the Parish.

A change is soon to take place in the Pastoral Staff. The resignation of Rev. B. F. Wentworth becomes effective next autumn, and may be effective sooner if so desired. Mr. Wentworth has been offered a position that he is desirous of accepting, and he may ask to be released in the near future. He has been on the staff for four years and has done most excellent work in religious education.

Rev. Ralph Brandon is being considered as Mr. Wentworth's successor. He spent the week end in the parish, attending several social gatherings, and preaching in two churches on Sunday. Mr. Brandon is a farmer's son from Ohio, a member of the Christian denomination, which is now being merged with the Congregationalists. He is a graduate of Defiance College, and is now a senior in Yale Theological Seminary, where he has specialized in Religious Education. A special meeting of the Council was called for last Tuesday to consider recommending to the churches that they extend a call to Mr. Brandon; also to consider Mr. Wentworth's request for an early release. Meetings of the local parishes or churches will be held soon to act on the recommendation of the Council.

LOVELL

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Hodsdon of Lovell have announced the engagement of their eldest daughter, Irma Elsie Hodsdon, to Frank G. Lopez, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Lopez of Bloomfield, N. J. Miss Hodsdon was recently employed at the C. T. Ladd drug store at Fryeburg, but was obliged to leave, on account of illness. Mr. Lopez is employed at the office of H. R. Allen, architect, at New York City. The wedding will take place sometime in August and after a short honeymoon the two young people will go to New York, where they plan to make their home.

Miss Katherine Randall of North Fryeburg has been visiting Mrs. Ella Davis.

Dorothy Sherburne and Katherine McAllister have been home for the Easter vacation.

Irma Hodsdon is visiting Mrs. Fred Harmon.

May Harmon was in Portland over the week end, recently.

Fred Meader of Chatham, who has been visiting Herman Merrill for a week, has returned home.

Avis Stearns is visiting her son, Frank.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Harmon were recent Sunday visitors at the home of their son, Herbert Harmon, of North Fryeburg.

Roads are getting very good.

Bert Emery is working on the State truck with Dan McLellan.

Fred Harmon is working at Brown's camps. Mrs. Harmon is visiting her son, Herbert, at North Fryeburg.

Mrs. F. E. Emery is gaining and is in hopes to be home from the hospital soon, after a week's stay at Westbrook.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Willard, who have been visiting her mother, Emma Gordon, have started on their way home to Detroit, Michigan.

Mae Harmon visited her friend, Kath McAllister, last week, also taking in the bridge party at Miss McAllister's.

Arthur Witham sold a Grebe radio to Roger Brown and a Stewart Warner to Carl Nevers, last week.

NORTHEAST LOVELL

O. J. Rowe and Bert Kendall have been dragging the roads.

Mattie Fox cleaned the Slab City schoolhouse the past week.

Henry Fox has finished cutting pine at Sabattus.

The Foxes were in Fryeburg, Sunday.

George Eastman passed away at the hospital in Portland, Saturday. The funeral was held at the Center, where he has been living the past winter. He will be greatly missed by relatives and a host of friends.

Mrs. Agnes Fox, Mrs. Etta McAlister and Mrs. Lottie Abbott spent the afternoon, Thursday, with Mrs. Marion Kendall.

Lowell Henley of North Waterford was through here, Friday, taking the census.

Lewis Rowe is making maple syrup.

Bert Kendall is working at the parsonage at Center Lovell with Oris Lebaron and father papering and painting.

Gerald Gammon is working at Denmark at the Diamond Match Co. mill.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. McDaniels were week end guests at her parents', Mr. and Mrs. Bert Kendall's.

The roads have been bad here. A number of cars were pulled out Saturday and Sunday.

Chester Rowe visited friends in Harrison over the week end.

Ernest Stover is soon to move to the Kezar Valley Settlement at the Five Kezars, for the summer.

Cora Fox was home over the week end.

The Androscoggin River at Rumford rose to near flood proportions, Monday night. The road between East Rumford and Rumford was submerged at places for a time. Three bridges were swept away. Mt. Zircon, Woodrow Village and Burgess Hill.

If the feed is of good quality and the dairy cow leaves part of her hay or silage, it is probably a sign that she is getting a little too much. It is always well to give the cow slightly less feed than she wants.

Young Grange Members Will Enter Competition for Trip to Rochester

"How Grange Members Can Aid in Highway Safety"

Because of the increasing number of automobile fatalities and believing that the question of highway safety needs special emphasis in the agricultural regions, the National Grange, through National Master L. J. Taber, has announced it will again this year conduct a highway safety essay contest, open to the younger members of subordinate granges throughout the United States.

"How Grange Members Can Aid in Highway Safety" has been chosen as the subject for the essay and all members who have not passed the age of 18 years by July 4, 1930, are eligible to participate. With approximately 8,000 subsidiary granges now active in 33 states, it is expected that a majority of the younger members of the organizaion will take part.

First prize in the contest will be a trip to the National Grange Sessions at Rochester, next November, with all expenses paid. The winner will attend these sessions as the guest of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce which organization also donates the other prizes.

In addition to the Convention trip there will be five other national prizes and 132 state prizes. They are: Second, $30; third, $20; fourth, $15; fifth, $10; and sixth, $5. For the best essay from each state a prize of $5 and a silver medal will be awarded, while for the next three essays from each state, the writers will receive bronze medals, making a total of 132 state prizes in addition to the six national prizes.

The contest in each local grange is in charge of the subordinate lecturer to whom all papers should be handed by July 4, 1930. A committee appointed by the subordinate master will then select the best essay and forward it to the state master under postmark not later than August 1, 1930.

A state committee will then select the four best essays from the state. The best of these will be awarded a check for $5 and a silver medal and will be sent to the National Master at Columbus, Ohio, to be entered in the National Contest. They should be mailed not later than September 1, 1930. The writers of the next three essays will receive bronze medals.

A committee appointed by the National Master will judge the essays entered in the national competition and their decision will be announced about October 1, thereby allowing plenty of time for the first prize winner to make arrangements for the trip to the National Sessions.

Essays must be kept within 800 words. They must be written in pen and ink or with a typewriter, on one side of the paper only. The contestant's name and address and the Subordinate Grange of which he is a member must appear in the upper left-hand corner of the first page.

Last year, the first in which the national prize was a trip to the Grange Sessions, the contest was won by Miss Betty Mulligan of Berwyn, Md. Miss Mulligan joined the Grange Special train at Washington November 7, and arrived back home December 6, after visiting Chicago, St. Paul, Banff, Lake Louise, Victoria, B. C., Portland, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Yosemite National Park, Santa Fe, St. Louis, and other historic and scenic spots, in addition to Seattle.

Cooperating with the National Grange in the promotion of the contest is the Highway Education Board of Washington, D. C., which has had previous experience in this type of work. It is expected that a material increase of interest in the safety campaign will be evoked throughout all subordinate granges as the subject chosen lends itself distinctly to the Grange program of safety and it is expected that some valuable suggestions will be forthcoming for the promotion of safety on the Highways.

Advertising Maine

Much Depends Upon the Attitude of the Citizens

When we think of advertising Maine we naturally think of the advertising work done by our Development Association, Publicity Bureau and Chambers of Commerce. It is true that these organizations have done splendid work for our state, but the real test of whether advertising Maine is to be a success depends upon the individual citizen of Maine.

Our State Development Commission, through its advertising work attracts people from other states into Maine as visitors. Much depends upon the impressions they form of our state. Much depends upon each citizen following up the state advertising by individual advertising of the right kind.

Every citizen, consciously or unconsciously, is advertising Maine. This advertising is either positive or negative, a benefit or a detriment. If a citizen has no faith in his community or in the state and expresses it to the visitor, his advertising is a detriment which cannot easily be counteracted.

A stranger from another state arrives in town. He is charmed with the scenery, with the climate, with the thousand and one good things Maine has to offer. He thinks seriously of coming to Maine and he begins to question the citizens in regard to the business prospects of the locality. About two out of three run down the community along these lines: "Business is no good here, things are on the decline, the town is losing population, there are only a few decent people left here, the farming land is poor, early frosts kill our crops, the farmers fight the village, the village fights the farmers, people will not co-operate, Maine is so far away from the big centers it has no chance to develop, besides, we have no natural resources, our winters are terrible, our summers are short and so on." In fact, nothing is right with the community or the state. Every failure is dwelt upon at length. Every unpleasant thing is put in the lime light.

It's all advertising, but advertising on the wrong side of the fence. Is it any wonder that the stranger decides at once to give up any idea of settling in a state with such conditions to meet?

There are many sections in Maine where the citizens would advertise along more constructive lines than in the case just mentioned. There are places in Maine where the boosters greatly outnumber the knockers. However there is a great chance for improvement in every section of the state.

How can the citizens of Maine expect people in other states to believe in Maine if they do not believe in Maine themselves? No doubt it would reduce the population quite a little at first, but it would surely be a good thing if every knocker of Maine would move out of the state.

It is neither loyalty to ourselves or to others not to stand up for all that is best in our community and in our state. Every state and every community has its weak spots to be sure, but we do not have to advertise them to strangers in order to work for their correction. We can take a hint from California. More than the climate or natural attractions of the Golden state, is the love and devotion of its citizens. The friendliness to the stranger and the unbounded enthusiasm of its citizens is what attracts thousands from other states.

Maine need not apologize for itself. It is a state of wonderful resources and possibilities for development. It is the pioneer state of New England and its growth has only just commenced. Large as all the other New England states put together, with a large portion of its area not even settled, the next ten years will witness a marvelous change and advancement. The state advertising which is being carried on year by year is beginning to bear fruit. People in all parts of the country are becoming interested in the one state of the East, which above all others, is telling the world about itself. Many people are coming to Maine to investigate. We need new citizens. We need Americans of the right kind from other states to help and to share in the building of one of the finest states in America. We welcome the stranger. We want him to know and appreciate our state as we do and he will be convinced that Maine is a desirable state in which to live, if our individual advertising is on the right side.—Ralph M. Bacon.

Read What these FARMERS SAY about THEIR Steel Roofing

The Only Roofing for Farm

"I have been a great advocate of steel roofing for years and use it on all new buildings and all repairs.

"I think steel roofing the only roofing on the farm as it meets all requirements."

Used for Twenty Years

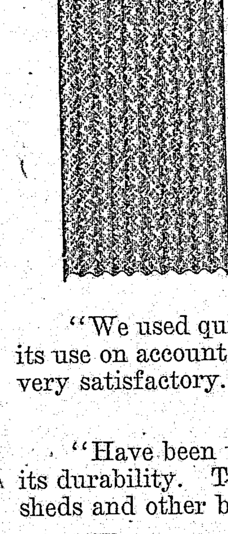

"We have used corrugated galvanized steel roofing on more than ninety per cent of our buildings here for twenty years. It is water and fire proof, easily and quickly laid, and available at a price that competitive roofings cannot meet."

Roofs Look Good As New

"I have been a user of steel roofing for over seventeen years. For me it is the cheapest, most durable and easily erected roofing. My roofs look almost as good as the day they were put on the buildings. I have six buildings with the corrugated roofing and two of that six have the brick pattern sheet iron siding."

Economy and Reduced Fire Hazard

"I use sheet steel roofing on all my outbuildings and am going to use it on my dwelling right away, because in the first place, it is economy and it lessens your fire hazard. I never expect to put anything else on my buildings except steel roofing."

Steel Prevents Destructive Fire

"My neighbor had a fire in a large tool shed covered with steel roofing, caused by a short in his connection. This building was close to the large horse barn. But the roof held the fire inside and no other buildings were burned, though the wind was against us. Everyone said that the steel roof saved the other buildings."

Lightning Protection Assured

"I have steel roofing on my barn. Lightning protection was a deciding factor in what kind of roof to purchase."

Saved His Building from Fire

"I have four large barns covered with sheet steel and wish I had all my buildings covered with it. I find it a protection from fire and lightning, having once saved a large crib by having it covered with metal."

Been On 10 Years—Very Satisfactory

"We used quite a lot of sheet steel roofing covering for buildings last year. We have adopted its use on account of fire and because it is easy to lay. We used some ten (10) years ago which is very satisfactory."

Used Many Years—Very Durable

"Have been using steel roofing a great many years. I think the main point in its favor is its durability. The last two years have put up considerable metal siding. As the old lumber sheds and other buildings show signs of decay, I replace with galvanized steel.

"Have recently had my old shingle roof recovered with steel."

A Business Man

Explains that he owns a large farm near the city in which he has his business and that he reroofed his dairy barn with steel because one of his near neighbors lost a barn with all of its contents about a week before on account of lightning striking it.

In reading the above extracts, do not forget that these statements come from farmers of the most successful type; practical men who have demonstrated their ability as successful business men and efficient agriculturists.

In publishing these statements from these letters we are not at liberty to use the names of the writers, but will be glad to supply full evidence of their authenticity to anyone interested.

Specializing in procuring the Unusual

A specialty with us

—helping mothers outfit the children smartly as well as economically.

We believe a child gets as much of a thrill as a grown up from new things that are smarter than average—in having plenty to pick from when making a selection. For these reasons, we make a thorough specialization in children's requirements — with departments devoted exclusively to supplying youngsters' needs—in charge of people who understand children, who are in sympathy with their ideas and with a constant inflow of new styles that will thrill the young folks. We are all ready now with extensive assortment of new things whose moderate prices please mothers as much as their smartness and newness pleases the children.

Spring coats in clever new styles for girls

At the left—A tweed coat with the new higher waistline, adjustable belt and fetching cape for girls of 6 to 14 years $15

In the center:—A navy blue regulation coat for girls of 6 to 14. Adjustable belt and emblem on sleeve $10

At the right:—Tweed coat for little miss two to six—showing that capes are smart even for the little folks $7.98

Other coats in 6 to 14 year sizes $10, $15, $18.75 to $25
Other coats in 2 to 6 year sizes $5.98, $7.98, $10 and $15

New dimity dresses and brother and sister suits

At the left:—A fine quality dimity dress with cape sleeves and in tiny floral prints. 2 to 6 years, $1.98. And next to it, a sleeveless dimity with dressmaker touches and in attractive prints $2.98. In a wide range of colors and designs including dots and with or without bloomers.

At the right:—A new idea in brother and sister suits with solid color broadcloth trousers or skirt and smart printed broadcloth tops. Ages 3 to 6 years, $2.98 each

Infants' hand made dresses

Dainty little creations with every stitch made by hand—and smartly hand fagotted; hemstitched or hand embroidered. Made of fine quality nainsook in sizes 0, 1, and 2 or in walking dress ages 1, 2 and 3 years. Imagine buying so much hand work for $2

Why so many Northern New England people do their shopping here

The new addition we made to our store two years ago has so widened our capacity to serve that more and more business has come to us from all over Maine and New Hampshire—until our volume of business has grown to be much the largest of any store of our character in these two states.

This growth has come to us because we have always been quick to reflect the new; and all that's smart and sound in style. Our increased business makes possible larger assortments and better values with continued certainty in style—enabling us in turn to serve you to even better advantage every day in the year.

New crepe pajamas

with printed tops and white pants

$1.98

(Cotton pajamas in stripes and dots $1)

We are featuring a wide range of attractive new ideas in children's summer sleeping garments. Just two examples are sketched. The large sketch is a two piece style in ages 6 to 14; at $1.98; the small sketch a one piece pajama in ages 2 to 10 at $1.

Rayon bloomers 79c. $1
Rayon vests 75c
Rayon pajamas $2
Silk bloomers and slips, ages 6 to 16, $1.98

We maintain an entire department

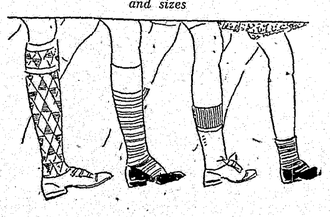

devoted exclusively to children's hosiery

Because we have a large department devoted to selling children's hosiery—we can give this important item unusual attention. We search the markets of the world for hosiery that is different, and more attractive than the average. Yet we sell it at every day value giving prices. For example:

Children's imported anklets, sox, half hose or 5-8 hose for 50c

Not the usual kind, but hosiery in smart roman stripes, jacquard designs, candy stripes or delightful plain colors—hosiery that adds a final touch of smartness to the entire costume.

Other children's hose 25c to $2 according to styles and sizes

Attractive coats for little boys of two-to-six

At the left:—a manly little tweed coat with deep pockets—wide lapels and meeting a boy's ideas in every respect $5.98. Beret $1.50.

At the right:—a boy's coat in camel's hair finish cloth with hazy stripes. The kind of a coat that a little boy will be proud of $10. Beret sketched with coat $2

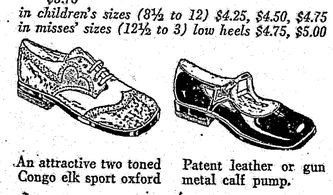

Spring styles in KALI-STEN-IKS

—the famous health shoe for active boys and girls

The attention we give to fitting a child correctly and our policy of selling good shoes at attractive prices are bringing us an ever increasing business in children's shoes.

Our KALI-STEN-IKS shoes are recommended by physicians and orthopedic doctors in Portland because they are properly designed to overcome and prevent foot troubles. They are made of sturdy leathers—are of Goodyear welt construction and are more often outgrown than outworn. Why not give your children perfect foot comfort, smart style and economize on their shoes as well by letting us fit them in KALI-STEN-IKS in infants' sizes (3 to 5); no heels $2.75, $3.00

in children's sizes (5 to 8) spring heels $3.50, $3.75
in children's sizes (8½ to 12) $4.25, $4.50, $4.75
in misses' sizes (12½ to 3) low heels $4.75, $5.00

Men and women in all walks of life are now seeking positive value. They are demanding the most and best for their dollars. And so today more than ever the trend is to Buick.

Not only are motorists driving 700,000 more Buicks than any other of the 15 makes of cars in its price class—not only are they awarding Buick from 35 to 50 per cent of the combined sales of these fifteen makes—but they are giving Buick a greater proportion of the total sales in its field than at any previous period in Buick history.

See Buick with Body by Fisher—compare it—consider the tremendous buyer preference revealed in the above figures—and you'll agree that Buick does provide greater value in all elements of motor car appeal.

The annual meeting of the hose companies and hook and ladder company for organization was held in G. A. R. hall, Saturday evening. After the regular business was completed, the firemen organized a relief association, with officers as follows:

Pres.—Guy I. Swett.
Vice Pres.—W. G. Cushman.
Sec.—James Mason.
Treas.—William Maxim.
Advisory Board—Stewart Shaw, Charles W. Bowker, William G. Cushman.

The Merchants' Association held a meeting, Wednesday evening at R. R. Butts' store for the discussion of several important local matters. Half holiday closing during the summer was discussed. The important question was the matter of reopening Strand Theatre which has been dark since the first of the year. It is understood that some $2,000 will be required from local sources to put the auditorium in condition for sound pictures. There is a report that the movie corporation will make the installation if conditions in the hall are made favorable. The matter was left with a committee to secure definite information. After the members declared in favor of the reopening of the house.

Mt Pleasant Rebekah Lodge held a special meeting, Friday evening to observe children's night. The children presented the following program: selection by Junior high school orchestra; trio by Misses Ruth Perry, Barbara Davis and Master Ronaldo White; piano solo, Miss Theresa Swan; violin solo by Master Kermit Wilson, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Carroll Wilson; recitation by little Olive Wise; Southern melody by ten young girls and their ukes; piano solo by Helen Swan; piano solo, Beryl Snow; reading by Hazel Talbot; selection by the Junior high school orchestra. SOUTH HARRISON

Mrs. J. M. Jordan has finished work at the Seavey farm and is at home again; her daughter, Melva, is with her.

To rectify the mistake of last week, the birthday cake that was presented to Mrs. Josiah Strout on her birthday was made by Mrs. Philip Cousins instead of Mrs. J. Howard Randall. This mistake was a misunderstanding of your correspondent. Lena (Mrs. Cousins) has made and decorated many of the cakes and she surely should receive the praise, they are so beautifully done and are a work of art.

Mrs. Elmer Edson and little daughter have returned home after passing a few weeks with her parents.

Robert Chute of Norway spent the past week with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Scribner at Scribner's Mills. His sister, Marion, spent two days the last of the week at her uncle's, Edward Scribner's.

Rodney Flagg was at home, Sunday, returning Monday morning to the Proctor House, Naples, where he is working.

Embert Buck has been sick with the flu. Martin Merrow has also been sick, two days he suffered terribly with headache and earache; others who are sick are Leland Buck, Jr., also Mrs. Philip Cousin's little son. Mrs. A. C. Buck is better from her recent illness.

Clara Andrews has finished work for Mrs. Carroll Martin and is at home again.

NORTH HARTFORD

Maude Richardson, who has been ill for some time, is a little more comfortable.

Roberta Trask is staying with Mrs. Blanche Richardson again this week and attending high school.

Fred Stetson reports a very good run of sap this year. He made about 106 gallons of syrup.

Mrs. Sarah Dunham is assisting in the home of Mrs. Francis Sargent, as Mabel Robbins has gone to her home at Wales.

NORWAY VICINITY

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Carroll, who have spent the winter in California, leave there the first of the week for their home in Norway.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver J. Foss have returned home after a four weeks vacation spent in Portland and with relatives in Monmouth.

The Barton Reading Club met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Eugene N. Swett. The roll call was responded to by 'Strange Epitaphs.''

A supply of two cent stamps commemorative of the Massachusetts Bay Colony, 1630-1930, has been received at the Norway postoffice.

"A Pair of Sixes" the K. P. drama that scored a big hit a few weeks ago, will be presented in Bethel, Friday evening under the auspices of the Lion's Club.

Mrs. Violet Grooms left, Friday night, for her home in Flint, Michigan, after a visit with her mother, Mrs. C. J. Likens, and sister, Mrs. Caressa Morgan, and family.

A. C. Scribner missed the turn around the traffic beacon in Printing Office Square, Saturday night, and damaged the guardian of that junction. The standard with a heavy concrete base was moved and the light disconnected. Repairs were made Monday forenoon.

The tournament featuring straight pool at the Masonic Club Room is in full swing. L. I. Gilbert, who is promoting the games, expects to finish the strings by the middle of next week and announce the winner. Fourteen pairs started and nearly half the starters have been eliminated in two rounds already played.

Patriot's Day coming on Saturday will not be generally observed as a holiday in the stores, practically all shops will keep open as usual. Offices that observe a half holiday on Saturday and both banks will suspend business for the day. The post office will transact business and the rural carriers go about their work as usual.

News was received Wednesday of the death, in City Point, Va., of Rayford K. Ragland. Mr. Ragland was the husband of Mrs. Fannie Howe Morrison, and spent several weeks here in town, a few years ago. He had been ill several days at the home of Mrs. Ragland's son, Freeland Morrison, and was en route to a hospital at Petersburg, to undergo an operation when death occurred.

According to Harold "Hack" Moore, the American Legion Minstrels will cast aside the old time circle and second part for a Night Club setting and atmosphere. The entire show will be presented in one scene without intermissions. Donald B. Partridge is interlocutor, the end men are Harold "Fat" Anderson, Ned Burnell, Paul Hosmer, Lee Holt and Ellis Perry. An orchestra of seven pieces will carry the show along. Norway dates are May 7-8; Bethel, May 9.

Dates for the tenth annual American Legion minstrels at Norway Opera House on May 7 and 8th. The advance sale of tickets will soon be in full swing. Seats may be checked at Norway Opera House, May 3 and at Stone's, starting May 5. A bang up good show is on the way with something different in the manner of presenting the conventional first part and olio. Harold Moore, who again heads the committee of production, is working hard to make this entertainment one of the best in the long string of good shows brought out in the past by Wm. Henry Stone Post.

The pumper and several firemen with Chief Frost answered an emergency call to Oxford, Monday at 12:30 p. m., to handle a fire that burned one small house to the ground and started a blaze on the roof of Josiah S. Witham's farm buildings on the state highway between Norway and Welchville. Flames from the small building on the Oxford road spread into the fields and woods, and burning embers were carried by the high wind to Mr. Witham's shingle roof, fifty rods away. The booster tank handled the roof blaze and 500 feet of hose was laid from a brook while fighting in the woods and fields.

The Mellie Dunham Building Fund

Contributions to assist Mellie Dunham in erecting new buildings to replace the homestead lost by fire are coming in slowly. A million dollar donation is not expected, but a good number of small sums would materially help the famous couple to replace their loss.

Other gifts besides money have been sent for the furnishing of the new home. This shows the right spirit. Every article is treasured by Mellie and Gram as a personal message of love.

Checks should be made payable to Mellie Dunham and sent to the Norway Advertiser Office.

Will Greet Friends
On Eighty-Ninth Birthday, Next Saturday

Mrs. Rebecca T. Daboll expects to celebrate her 89th birthday on Patriots' Day and proposes to greet friends who may call and extend congratulations. Cards and gifts are arriving by mail to cheer the shut-in and bring a touch of the outside world.

Mrs. Daboll is confined to a couch and wheel chair at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ella Ham, Pleasant Street, but is cheerful and happy. Eleven months ago she fell and broke her hip and shoulder, and for weeks was confined in a hospital. Able to walk but little, she derives pleasure from making fancy articles, knitting and crocheting. Much of her handiwork is given as a contribution to the Universalist fair and needless to say, the articles find ready buyers. She is generous with her friends and sends out many gifts made during lonely hours.

Mrs. Daboll was born in South Redding now Wakefield, Mass., April 19, 1841, the daughter of Jotham and Sally Walton. She is the last of nine children. Much of her early life was spent in Northboro and other places in Massachusetts. She came to Norway thirty-nine years ago, then lived for a time in Waterford. Mrs. Daboll has a son, William Foster, in Muskogee, Oklahoma, and a daughter, with whom she lives; four grandchildren; four great grandchildren and a great, great grandson two years old. So she represents the head of five generations living.

Not especially anxious to return to the so-called, good old days; she observes from her window dress styles that would be daring when she was a girl, but perfectly proper today. Mrs. Daboll has lived to see the fulfillment of a prophecy uttered by her father forty-odd years ago. He said, "A time is coming when people will fly about in airships, like birds."

Her mind is alert and she keeps in touch with important events. Cultivating the friendship, and being in personal contact with young people is her motto and a sure remedy to ward off the "grouches" in advanced age.
